

The Highland Park Press

Avoid the Crowds

THE most capacious of stores is bound to be filled with elbowing, jostling crowds as the zero hour of Yuletide approaches. It's no fun to compete with a heedless mob for picked-over merchandise. And even the best sales staff is snowed under by the perennial flood of last minute orders. Avoid this woe ~

Do Your Christmas Shopping Early