Lake County lovers of the theatre and dramatics will have the opportunity of seeing and hearing the noted actor and producer E. H. Southern in a dramatic entertainment, which will be sponsored by the Women's University club of Waukegan at the Waukegan high school gymnasium on Thursday evening, December 12.

Waukegan's R.O.T.C. Not to Be Abandoned

Waukegan's fears that the R. O. T. C. unit at the local high school might be abandoned, together with similar units in high schools all over the country, as the result of proposed plans to reduce the annual budget of the U. S. War Department, were allayed last week as the result of a telegram received by Congressman Carl R. Chindblom from Congressman Henry E. Barbour of California, chairman of the subcommittee on the war department, dealing with appropriations. Congressman Barbour assured the local congressman that abandonment of the R. O. T. C. units in high schools is not contemplated.

Inter-State Poultry Exhibit at Antioch High School Dec. 19

Exhibitors of poultry from north-eastern Illinois and southeastern Wisconsin will show their best specimens at the Antioch-Lake Villa poultry exhibition which is to be held on Dec. 19-21 at the high school gymnasium at Antioch, Ill.

Close to 1,000 entries are expected this year and sufficient room has been provided to accommodate them.

During the past five years the show has done much to encourage and promote the poultry industry in Lake county. It now represents approximately a $750,000 investment in Lake county alone. The Chesney farm at Lake Villa is perhaps the largest establishment in the middle-west. The Weber Duck farm is one of the 11 large farms in the United States.

Many smaller places have sprung up around Antioch, Fox lake, and in Kenosha and Racine counties.

Sufficient premium money is available to make this show the most interesting in the entire region.

C. L. Kutil, instructor of vocational agriculture at the Antioch township high school at Antioch, Ill., is the secretary. Premium catalogs and entry blanks can be secured by writing to him.

In the service of all the people

THE Bell System is owned by 450,000 stockholders and operated by more than 400,000 workers for the service of the people of the nation.

It is a democratic instrument of a democracy. Big and little, rich and poor, can project their personalities over the wide network of its wires. For friendship or business, pleasure or profit, the telephone is indispensable to our modern civilization.

This year the Bell System is erecting new telephone buildings in more than 200 cities. It is putting in thousands of miles of cable, thousands of sections of switchboard and hundreds of thousands of new telephones. Its expenditure for plant and improvements in service in 1929 will be more than 550 millions of dollars—half again as much as it cost to build the Panama Canal.

This program is part of the telephone ideal that anyone, anywhere, shall be able to talk quickly and at reasonable cost with anyone, anywhere else. There is no standing still in the Bell System.
