

days earlier, and capital is turned over faster; result, cheaper cars.

A young railway clerk asked a Cleveland bank to let him prove he could save them $25,000 a year by re-routing their mail exchanges with other banks. The first year the savings amounted to nearly $100,000 interest on uncollected items in transit.

Railroads run faster freight trains today on passenger schedules. Merchants can get goods in a week that used to take a month in transit. They do not have to carry such large stocks, hence have less capital tied up, lower interest charges and can sell cheaper.

Every invention which moves men or merchandise faster cuts down the cost of living in this complex machine age.

TEACHERS

Public education will never be as good as it ought to be so long as most school teachers never get outside of their home countries, says Edward A. Filene, Boston merchant and philanthropist. Teachers cannot present a true view of the world to their pupils unless they know something about the world out of their own experience.

That is true for others besides teachers. The only really educated persons are those who have seen other countries besides their own. It is getting easier and easier to do that. A trip to Europe with a week in London and another week in Paris can be had for $250 from New York. Mr. Filene is working on a plan to reduce this to $150 for teachers and the next step, he thinks, will be to have such trips made compulsory for every teacher above the primary grades.

WHEAT

The most important news that has come out of Russia is the reported discover by Russian botanists of a new hybrid grain, a cross between wheat and rye. It is said to combine the food qualities of wheat with the cold resistance of rye and to yield three times as many bushels to the acre as ordinary wheat.

Not all the news that comes out of Russia can be credited, and this may be exaggerated. It must be remembered, however, that Russia gave the world new grains before the war. Durum wheat originated in that country as well as other valuable varieties.

If this latest report is true, this discovery may have revolutionary consequences for the whole world.

COLOR

Men's clothes are becoming more colorful. Blue, green and red shoes are the latest. Why not? In a world of color why should man's apparel strike the only somber note? Our ancestors dressed as gaily as their purses permitted. When George Washington went courting in a red coat, to wear plain clothes meant that the wearer was a Quaker or else too poor to buy gay garments.

Anyone who doubts that men like to wear bright colors need only visit a fashionable country club. Women subdue their color schemes for sport, men get more gorgeous.

With everything else becoming more colorful, men's wear will follow, in time.

Father: Was Jack intoxicated when he came home last night?

Daughter: I didn't notice, but he asked for a mirror so he could see who he was.

Tim: Russia's a terrible place. A few men boss the government and control all industry!

Jim: What's so different about that?

SPEED

Reports from England are that Flight Leader A. H. Orlebar, who flew 368 miles an hour for the Schneider Cup, has achieved a speed of 500 miles an hour in a private trial. At that rate a man could start westward around the world in the latitude of London and never get out from under the sun.

All human progress has arisen from the effort to expand time and compress space. Think that over. With flight at 500 miles an hour possible, space will mean nothing, time everything.

Many who read this will live to see airplanes running regularly on some such time-schedule.

TIME

"Time is Money," said Poor Richard. Few understand just what that means.

The new lacquer process of painting motor cars takes one day in the paint shop instead of a month. Paintshop floor-space is saved. Money tied up in undelivered cars is released 30
