Plans Fifth Birthday Party
With stories, stunts, competitions and refreshments planned, the program for the fifth birthday meeting of Troop 33 of the Lincoln school on Friday, January 3, at 7:30 o'clock, has assumed quite an air of interest to the former members and officers of the troop who will be the guests of the present members of the troop.

Members of the troop are preparing stunts for presentation on this evening when they will listen to stories of experiences of the former members of the troop. In order to get into the swing of a regular meeting there will be a few contests in which the old timers will have an opportunity to demonstrate their abilities. These contests won't be very serious—they hardly can be on this occasion.

While those in charge of the celebration have hinted as to other attractions also, they are not willing to disclose any particulars regarding these, as they say that arrangements have not been satisfactorily completed. It is expected, however, that these plans may be published in detail next week.

Special refreshments are being prepared to properly celebrate the fact that Troop 23 is becoming a veteran troop with five years of service.

Services Appreciated

Assistant Scoutmaster Harry Phillips of Troop 37, Highwood, resigned his position in the troop at the last meeting, Friday, December 20. He has often been the only leader there. In April Mr. Phillips moved to Chicago and since then he has commuted every Friday evening. We estimate he has spent seventy-six hours on the train and as much again in troop meetings since April. Making in all over two hundred hours of work for one man for one year. This does not count the many extras on hikes and trips.

That one man has done much work for the boys in Highwood is an added inspiration to those who follow him and those who worked with him. The local office of the North Shore Area Council wishes especially to congratulate him on his splendid work.

Arrow Hawk Patrol

Our patrol meeting of the Arrow Hawk Patrol, Troop 61, Northbrook, was held at Harry Nielsen's house. Our patrol leader could not be present, but our assistant patrol leader took charge. The meeting opened with the scout oath. We then had a drill. After the drill we played a game. We then talked over a few business matters and closed the meeting with the scout laws. George Anderson, patrol scribe.

Like Sign Language

Troop 61 of Northbrook had their regular troop meeting on December 11, most everyone was present. After various drills we had a circle formed. Our scoutmaster, Mr. Glore, showed us several of the Indian sign languages. After he had gone over them several times, one by one the scouts got up and talked in sign language to see if the rest could understand what he was saying. It is very interesting and we are learning it. Woodrow Wilson, Troop 61, Northbrook.

Troop 52, Deerfield

Troop 52 opened their meeting at 7:15. We had announcements and following Mark Andrews told the troop what we did at the junior leaders' conference. J. Andrews showed the troop Indian sign language. Mr. Russell took some boys to practice first aid, while others played O'Grady game. Then we had patrol corners. Black Bears had the highest rating. Scout Wood closed the meeting with the scout benediction. Harold Huhn, patrol leader, Deerfield Press club.

Scouts Study First Aid

The first aid class of Troop 52 has met regularly since the middle of October. We have had an average of about eight present. We are planning on having a regular first aid team. Last week we had a test and all are waiting to see how we stand. J. Kenneth Vetter.

Deerfield Press Club Meets

The Deerfield Press club met on Wednesday afternoon in the office of Charles Kapschull. There were three present. They were Kenneth Vetter, Harold Huhn and Milton Merner. We wrote reports and talked of future meetings. Milton Merner.

Lake Forest Court of Honor

Troop 45 of Lake Forest held a court of honor at the Episcopal church on Friday, the 13th, to which the parents were invited. About twenty visitors were present. First a board of review was held, then the troop inspection and reports. After that the troop and visitors sang the "Star Spangled Banner," Lawrence Freeman playing the bugle. Following the song two stunts were put on.

First—Allen Hokenson, David Tibbetts, William Morris, Ed Bax and Jim Tibbetts were "lost in the woods" and were rescued by an "Indian boy," Ian McPherson, by means of sign language. This play was great.

The other stunt concerned first aid. The Lion Patrol, consisting of Eddie Bax, Eddie Bleier, Charles Kiddle, Charles Regua, Wesley Griffis and Bob Tibbetts put this on. It went over great. Following this the assistant scoutmaster, Thomas Atteridge, and junior assistant scoutmaster, Bruce Kenyon, lately made Eagle Scout, were introduced.

Then came the refreshments and an informal talk by the scoutmaster, Mr. Tibbetts. Then the court of honor, at which Charles Regua, Jack Whalen and Wesley Griffis received their tenderfoot badges. Ed Bax and Jim Tibbetts received their second class badges and David Tibbetts was made first-class scout and Ian McPherson life scout.

Merit badges were issued as follows: Ian McPherson, public health, athletics; Lawrence Freeman, leathercraft, and Allen Hokenson, woodwork, basketry. The following committeemen were present: Rev. Prince, Mr. Bleier and Mr. Bax. Mr. Philip Masslich, assistant scout executive, was present. Altogether it was a great affair. Jim Tibbetts, Troop 45.

Troop 44, Lake Bluff

Arden Shore association has taken to scouting like wildfire. Last week 32 boys out of 48 signed up and are starting work right away. The following are the list of boys: Charles Bagley, Charles Bissel, Charles Bwiaszowski, Emilio Cozzi, Herbert Davis, Norman Eberle, Joseph Eenigenberg, Robley Eenifenberg, Theodore Eenigenberg, Francis Gavigan, Charles Germain, Walter Goerner, Francis Graham, Emil Guerriere, Arthur Hewison, Cornelius Johansen, Tony Johansen, Joseph Mezyk, Charles Kamin, Max Krup, Morris Lewis, Richard Lewis, Winkle Lundsgaard, Edward Mikes, Alex Mowokowski, Mike Musto, Alphonse Pabedinski, Kenneth Risting, Lewis Svigel, Clayton Tomany, Vincent Walsh, Harold Young.

Clayton E. Booker of the Kappa Sigma house at Lake Forest is taking the job of assistant scoutmaster. At the last meeting Mr. Masslich was there and talked Indian sign language to the boys.

Two boys are first class and are senior patrol leaders of the two divisions in the troop. There are two patrols of eight in each division. Ten junior leaders attended the conference at Lake Forest and they are teaching the group the various signs. The boys meet on Wednesday afternoons for one hour. The troop flags were given them by the Rotary club of Highland Park.

Twenty-six Leaders Register

Twenty-six leaders have been welcomed to position of leadership in the North Shore Area Council in the last week. Several of the men are advancing in rank, but for the most part the men are registering in scouting for the first time. Five scoutmasters, five assistant scoutmasters and sixteen committeemen are in the list, which includes the following from Highland Park, Lake Forest and Deerfield:

Eugene H. Klaber, 510 S. Linden avenue, Highland Park, chairman troop committee, Troop 33, Highland Park; Gordon H. Fox, 804 Glencoe avenue, Highland Park, troop committeeman, Troop 33, Highland Park; J. Howard Moran, 719 S. St. Johns avenue, Highland Park, troop committeeman, Troop 33, Highland Park; O. R. Huncke, 632 South Linden avenue, Highland Park, troop committeeman, Troop 33, Highland Park; G. Canright, 636 S. Linden avenue, Highland Park, troop committeeman, Troop 33, Highland Park; Clayton E. Booker, Lake Forest, assistant scoutmaster, Troop 44, Arden Shore camp; Walter E. Strub, 970 Old Mill Road, Deerfield, assistant scoutmaster, Troop 48, Lake Forest; Wm. R. Dobbins, Grand avenue, Deerfield, scoutmaster, Troop 51, Deerfield.
