HINTS FOR THE HOME

"There's nothing she can't do with a can of paint and a paint brush," said one young woman enthusiastically about another. "And she has a perfect passion for doing it, too. She'd rather paint things than eat or dance."

What this young woman liked to paint, we learned, was not miniatures, or portraits or even decorations on china, but such things as wicker furniture, window sills, porch floors and even the family automobile when it needed it. With her talent for painting she was able, at very small expense, to transform a rather ordinary sort of sun parlor with some odds and ends of wicker furniture into one of the most delightful rooms of the sort.

One thing that this young woman insists on, however, is that she should always have her paints mixed by the professional paint dealer. If she is going to do a very small job she will use a small can of ready-mixed paints, but otherwise she goes to a paint dealer who can be trusted and gets him to mix the desired quantity of paint for her. She insists that she owes much of her success to this precaution.

She has also been able to furnish several rooms in her house at rather small expense, by using unpainted furniture which she has painted to suit herself. Now, many persons seem to be of the opinion that unpainted furniture is so expensive that it is not worth the trouble of painting it for themselves. Better buy the ready-painted sort. However, it really is possible, through some searching, to find attractive pieces of the unpainted sort at small cost.

Don't imagine for a minute that painting is easy. One reason why this young woman likes the work is because it really is difficult and therefore well worth her best efforts.

Oatmeal Bread

One and one-half cups rolled oats, one cake compressed yeast, one and one-half teaspoons salt, two cups warm water, two tablespoons sugar. Place oats in warm water. Dissolve yeast cake in one-third cup of lukewarm water; add two tablespoons of lard and salt. Add one and one-half cups of flour to oats, then add the yeast and salt. Beat well and let rise until light. Add sugar, enough flour to make a soft mould, and knead lightly. Let rise about one hour. Make in one large or two small loaves. Let rise again in pans about one hour, to double the size. Bake from 35 to 45 minutes in moderate oven. If started at eight the bread will be done by noon.

Local Man Finds His Summer Cottage Robbed

L. R. Hanawalt of Highland Park, who has a summer home in Bonnie Brook Country club estates located at 2524 North Lewis avenue, reported to the police last week that when he went to the place for a New Year's eve party, he found the home had been burglarized. The burglars had broken a rear window and ransacked the place. A flashlight was all that was missing. Hanawalt had not been at his summer home for several weeks.

To Amend Bill in Suit For Damages

Attorney J. A. Miller, counsel for Leo Molendi, 11, of Highwood, who suffered tetanus infection July 4 through the explosion of a blank cartridge which he claims he bought from Sante Bernardi, Highwood hardware merchant, will amend his bill in a $10,000 personal injury suit, he stated last week. Circuit Judge Claire C. Edwards held that the counsel for the plaintiff could not bring it under the city ordinance act last Saturday and sustained the demurrer of the defense.
