

MORE ABOUT RAVINIA SKATING FACILITIES

when the snowflakes fly, and the dignified bunch along Main street rushes out to throw snowballs. True, this does not happen frequently in the latitude of New Orleans, but when it does, it knocks 'em silly with joy. No sense in going south while the skating season is in, but if you must travel, go north to Montreal and Quebec, where you can still enjoy a good beefsteak, instead of southwards where you shoot skyrockets on New Year's, listen to the droning of the lawnmowers in February, and wonder what's the matter with you the rest of the time.

Then there are dengue and malaria fever germs down south, rattlesnakes, stingrays, and once in a while Asiatic cholera and bubonic plague bobs up, not to mention yellow fever, scorpion stings, water moccasins, copperheads and harlequin, all of which, by contrast, emphasize the glory and beauty and loveliness of a Ravinia winter-time! Down there you have myriads of insects to bite you, and big hotels to sting you too, while hurricanes and earthquakes keep you in a state of constant nervous anxiety! Up here, ah, how marvelous, snowflakes slowly falling over the landscape, the glow of wonderful health in your cheeks, an appetite like a Clydesdale horse and best of all, ice-skating!

Ask the Youngsters

Just ask any boy or girl what they think of ice-skating as a sport? And remember, that what is good for the kids, is good for YOU! In these days of falling stock prices and uncertain economic conditions skating is a life-saver. It makes you forget, stop thinking, gives your brain a rest. Most folks think too much anyhow. Skating sends the blood to your feet, puts you in tune with the universe, and warms you up to such an extent that you can wear lighter underwear, thus saving a couple of dollars per year on your clothing allowance.

Furthermore you have lots of fun, you laugh at yourself and at others, you meet your friends and make new ones, you meet the kids of the village and their dogs, you enjoy life! You learn more about the town and its people than you would from a barber or a drug clerk, and mothers don't mind if the dinner is hot or cold, while pop doesn't give a whoop about the market.

Pays Big Dividends

An investment in ice-skating pays big dividends to every member of the family. Support your ice-rink and all Ravinia folks are urged to get behind their rink; practically every child in the community enjoys it, and ALL parents should support it. Mrs. E. E. Mellinger is the treasurer, 355 Marshman street.

Grateful acknowledgement is made by the Ravinia skating committee to the following persons who have sent in contributions for the maintenance of the ice-rink: W. C. Pohrte, James Cady Ewell, Edith Walker, Sidney Stein, K. E. Wagner, Margaret McCrory.

Wake Up Ravinia

You have a wonderful ice-skating rink. Your children enjoy it immensely, but you are not supporting it. All who use the rink must send in contributions at once! The skating committee will call upon you for help. Cards will be issued to contributors and the Ravinia skating rink maintained for their benefit.
