What we mean by "Background" and what it means to you!

Every day some big firm merges with some other big firm and the figures of the money involved look like the score-board at the ball park during a ten-inning game. But from it all we seem to get better products and better service and usually lower costs.

We are an Authorized
DUCO
Refinishing Station
equipped to service the finish on your car

The du Pont Company, makers of Duco, have established about 2200 such stations all over the country. They supervise the work of these stations and constantly carry to them new ideas on finishing methods, new colors and similar help. This all tends to standardize automobile refinishing work and puts it on a better basis—from which you benefit.

As one of this national chain of du Pont supervised stations we feel that we merit your consideration if or when you require any finishing service.

Call at our shop or telephone us and we will see you promptly!

COLLEGE NITE FEB. 1 FOR UPPER CLASSMEN

A "college night" for acquainting the juniors and seniors of the Deerfield-Shields high school with what the various colleges offer will be held at the local high school the evening of February 1.

There will be booths for each college which wishes to send a representative. Each representative will be in his booth, where all of the necessary information and catalogues which the students will desire may be secured. Each booth will fly its colors and banners.

Motion pictures of the campus and other places around the various colleges will be shown in the girls' gym. The band and the octette will also be in the girls' gym playing the college songs. Also there will be dancing from 9:30 to 10:30.

So many colleges send representatives at such inconvenient times that the students do not really learn all he wishes to know about the college. By having a college night Mr. Sandwick thought that the students will be able to learn more easily just what each college has to offer, and can compare the different advantages of the colleges.

Letters have been sent out by the committee to each college students have designated they wish to attend, and about thirty-five replies have been received by Louise Smith, chairman of the committee. All are in favor of the plan and wish to cooperate with the school. In case a representative is unable to attend, an alumnus will be secured to tell the students about the college.

Last Tuesday a committee composed of one member from each senior session and three faculty advisers met to discuss the details of the affair. The session representatives are Clyde Adair, Oscar Goepner, Louise Smith, Marjory Kendall, Virginia Engles, Dorothy Burris and Charles Marks. Louise Smith is chairman of the committee, with Oscar Goepner chairman of publicity; Dorothy Burris, secretary; Charles Marks, chairman of decorations, and Virginia Engles chairman of entertainment. The faculty advisers are Miss Bredin, Mrs. Peers, and Mr. Wolters.

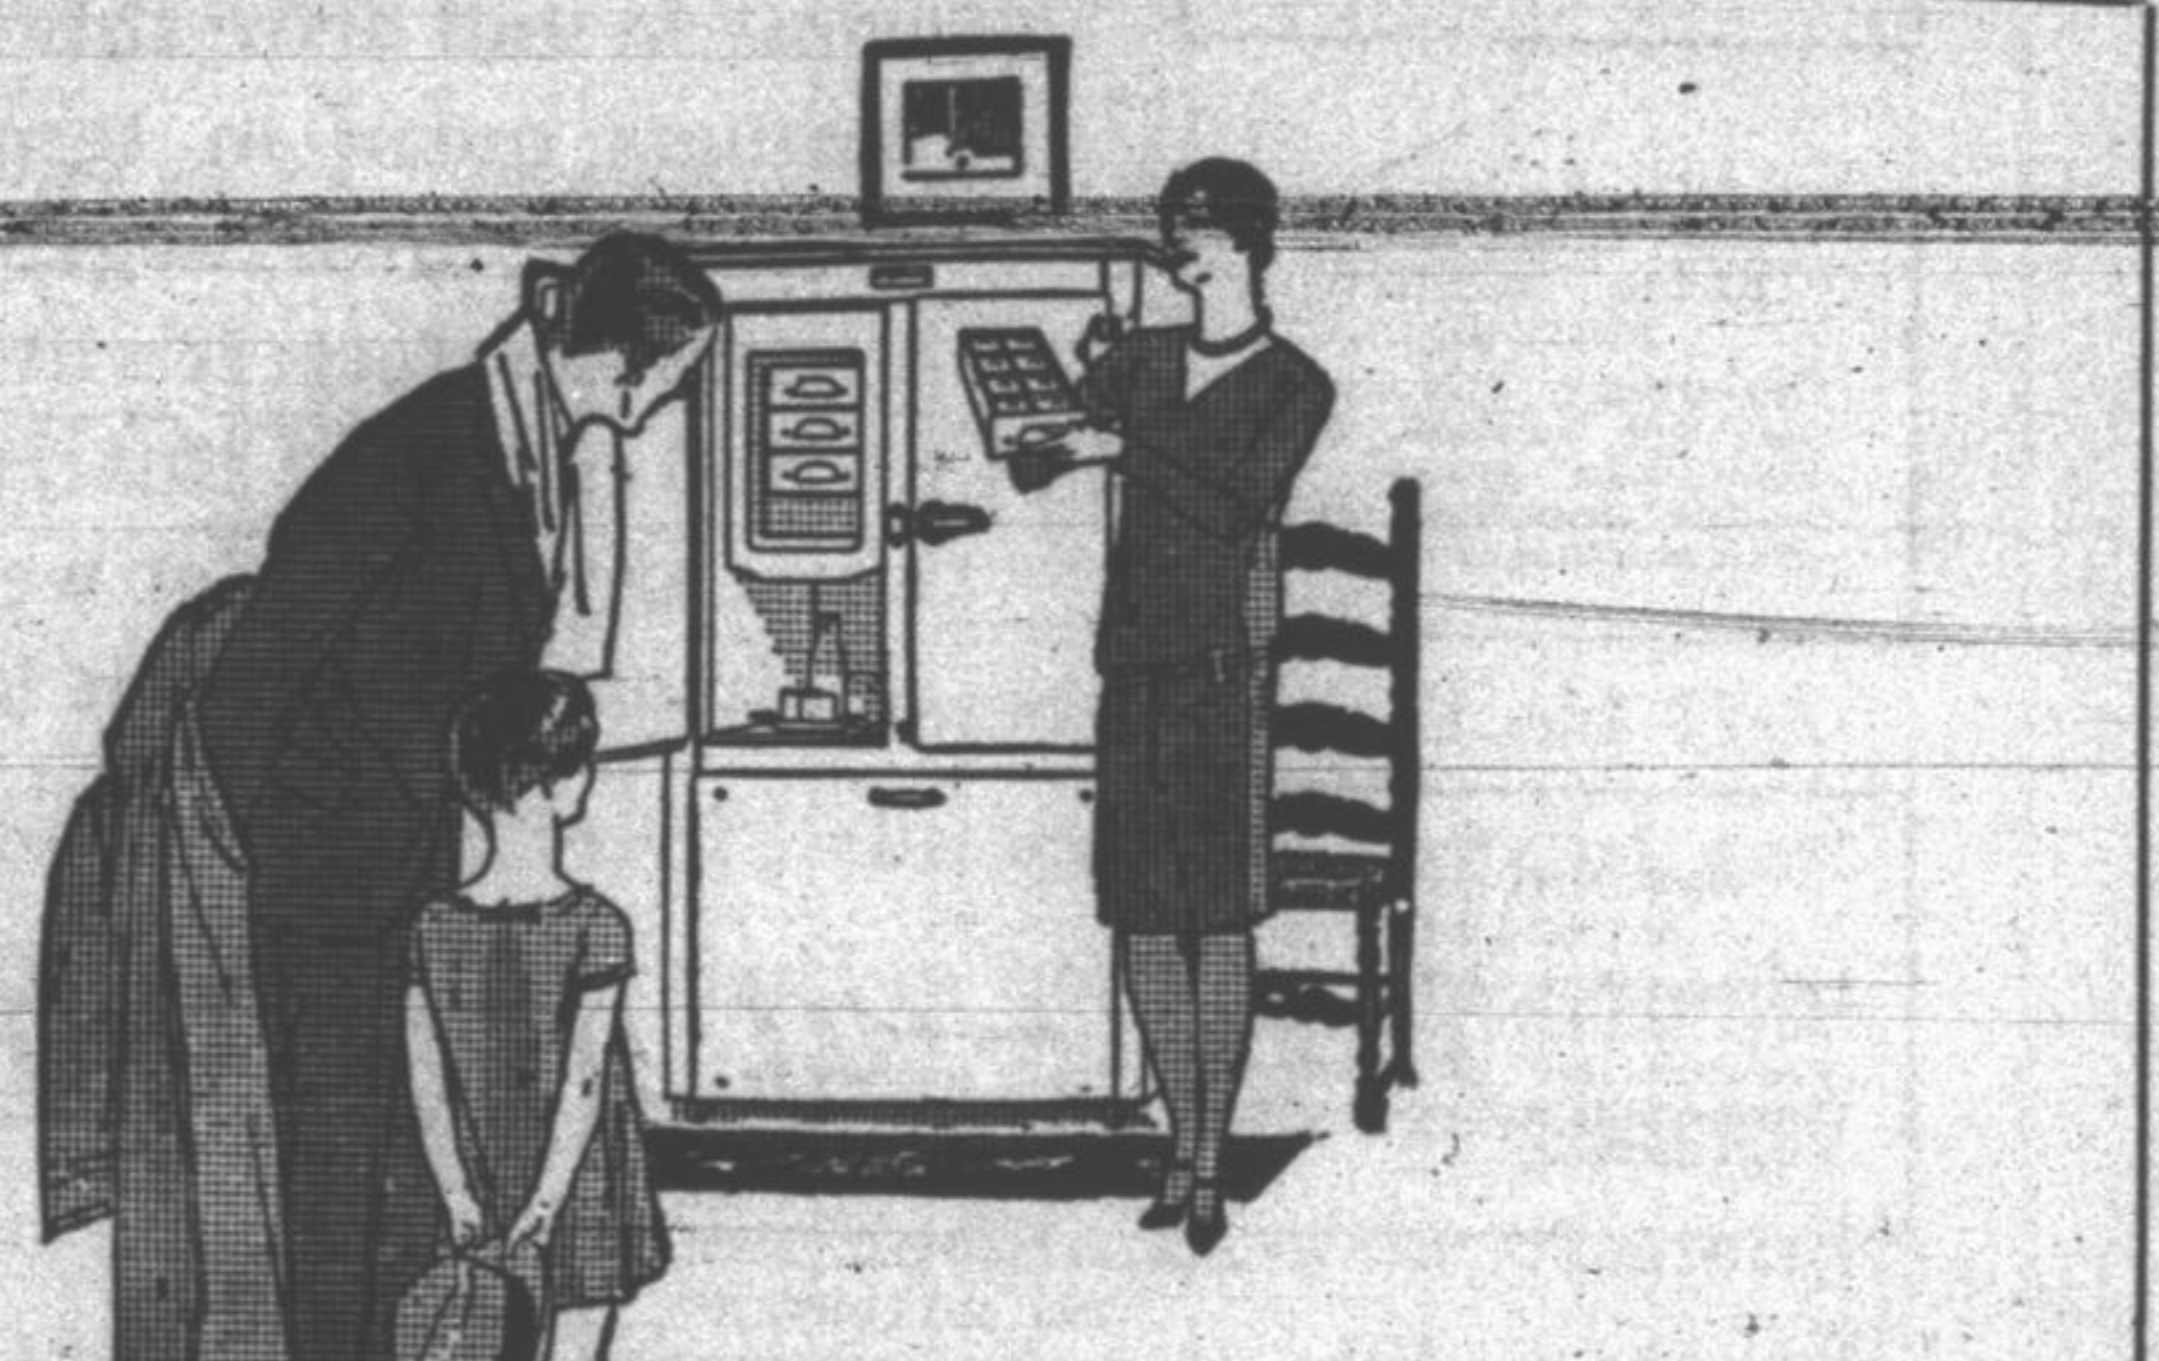

International Radio Hookups Is Next Step

International broadcasting is the next phase of broadcasting. We shall soon have a world-wide exchange of programs, so that the talent, the culture, the mental outlook, and the nationalism of all leading countries will become known throughout the world. Boundaries will still further crumble as this interchange of thought brings about a better international understanding. Perhaps, too, sight may come to join sound in the broadcasting efforts, as television develops beyond the present laboratory stage, and a still better understanding will exist when faces as well as voices will become familiar throughout the world, says Gen. James G. Harbord, president, the Radio Corporation of America, in Nation's Business.
