DISHWASHING

NOW STOPS

WHERE IT USED

TO START

... thanks to the Conover Electric Dishwasher. You put your dishes into the machine and an electric motor does the job. While held securely in place, swirls of hot water wash and rinse your dishes clean. In a few minutes they are done—sparkling and dry. (Three Conover models, beginning at $94.25.)

HINTS FOR THE HOME

Old Blankets Useful

Of course no one discards a blanket just because of one or two worn spots. They may be given a new lease of life by careful darning. By all means use soft woolen darning thread and be sure that you run your stitches over a considerable portion of the good part of the blanket so as to make a darn that will not depend on the worn portion. A good plan is to put the blanket into a large pair of embroidery frames. If you do this you can make a very presentable darn. If possible the darn should be used instead of the patch, as it is smooth and flatter.

Often the blanket is worn only at the edge. In that case you may find it best to run a piece of thin flannel the whole length of the blanket, sewing it down neatly, binding it in with the blanket at the edge and then working about the worn places, through the blanket portion and the flannel. But often it is better simply to cut off a section of the blanket. It may then be large enough for a smaller bed, or for a useful bit of additional covering. There are always times when a blanket just large enough to tuck in over the feet and knees is a welcome addition to the bedding.

Sometimes a blanket goes along the center fold. Then it is possible to cut out the worn section here, piece the blanket down the center and use it for a single bed blanket. It is a good plan to look over blankets at this time of the year, before putting them away for warm weather, and to make any alterations or mends that are necessary. Cold weather comes quickly in the autumn and it is very discouraging to go to get your bedding out of cedar or camphor only to find that it needs a day or two's mending before it is presentable. The chances are that you won't do anything to it at all, if you wait until autumn.

Orange Puff Sauce

Put two egg whites in bowl with few grains salt and beat until very stiff. Add slowly while beating, constantly, two-thirds cup powdered sugar, juice of one orange and juice of one-half lemon. Serve as soon as possible, as sauce will separate if it stands.

Orange Sauce

Cream one cup of butter with two cups of sugar, add the juice of two oranges, the grated rind of one, and a little grated nutmeg. Mix thoroughly and serve cold. This may be used on the above pudding. It is delicious with boiled rice and on steamed or baked pudding.

Warns Against Too Many Dairy Concerns

There is some activity throughout the state, involving promotion of dairy plants in Illinois, says a bulletin of the state Chamber of Commerce. The Chamber suggests that a very careful investigation be made not only of existing plants in the immediate vicinity, but of conditions existent in the industry as a whole. It is one thing to promote establishment of a dairy plant of any kind or character in a community where conditions warrant it, and it is quite another to locate such a plant in a community where conditions are already excellent and where the establishment of new plants would simply mean eventual failure for all. There continues to be much unintelligent promotion of this kind, and the Chamber feels warranted in emphasizing the value of careful investigation.
