

T. J. McCORMACK AT HIGH SCHOOL FEB. 6

(Continued from page 1)

tory, political science and the modern languages. On his return he continued his study of jurisprudence at Columbia university, New York City, and later the Chicago Law school. He came West shortly after the Open Court Publishing company was founded by E. C. Hegeler. . . first to Chicago and then to La Salle . . . and worked for many years with that organization in the capacity of writer, editor and translator.

Work and Studies

His work and studies during this period were chiefly concerned with history and philosophy of science, especially the philosophy of mathematics and physics, and with psychology and the theory of education. During this period Mr. McCormack edited many philosophical and mathematical works, wrote numerous articles and reviews for the Monist and the Open Court, of which he was assistant editor, and translated from the French and German a long list of books on science and philosophy. Later he edited a large historical work, "The Memoirs of Gustave Koerner."

In 1903 Mr. McCormack was elected to the superintendency of the La Salle-Peru Township high school, and, giving up his literary and scientific career, has since devoted his time to the practical problems of secondary education, as presented in the La Salle-Peru Township high school. In 1924 he was made director of the La Salle-Peru-Oglesby Junior college.

Affiliations

Mr. McCormack is a member of several scientific societies and academies, among them the American Philosophical society and the American Mathematical society, and his name is one of the 164 representatives from Illinois in the new biographical dictionary of "American Men of Science" published by the MacMillan Company of New York. But perhaps his most widely known venture in education was the establishment in 1923 of the Bureau of Educational Counsel, an organization devoted to the study of the individual needs of high school pupils. The work of this organization is conducted by two social psychiatric workers with the assistance of psychiatrists and psychologists from Chicago who every six weeks hold special behaviour clinics in the La Salle schools. The La Salle high school was the first public school in the country in which mental hygiene was introduced as an auxiliary technique for the treatment of student problems.

Farmers of County Are for State Income Tax

Support of the Illinois Agricultural society and other organizations in the state in their movement for the establishment of a state income tax will replace, in whole or part, the tax on personal property as real estate, was stated in a resolution passed at the annual meeting of the Lake County Farm bureau in Grays lake, Friday.

Nancy Carroll in Sweetie at Alcyon, February 6 and 7

Nancy Carroll, Paramount's romantic singing-dancing actress, is coming to the Alcyon theatre in the big attraction there next week—"Sweetie" in which she plays the title role.

"Sweetie" is a play-revue of youth pep, stage and "prep"—it has been referred to by showmen as "the 'Good News' of the talking screen." Miss Carroll is the chorus girl performer who falls in love with a prep school boy and later falls heiress to the very school where he is a student.

With this combination of school-spirit and stage-atmosphere background Paramount has superimposed an array of lavish entertainment.

There are songs galore, dancing girls and boys by the score in this big extravaganza. Song numbers that all will be whistling are "Sweetie than Sweet," "He's So Unusual," "Alma Mammy" and "Bear Down."

Jack Oakie, graduate of the stage and vodvil who has become a great favorite after three big roles in talking pictures, puts over a rib-breaking smart-cracker characterization—that of "Tap-Tap" Thompson, the big-time hooper and song-plugger. He sings "Alma Mammy" in a burlesque graduation scene. It is a vest-bursting number, unparalleled for rollicking satire.

Helen Kane, the tiny-voiced girl with the big brown eyes, sings three big numbers written to order for her world-famous "boopadoopa-doop" singing style. She made a grand hit in "Nothing But the Truth" with Richard Dix. She is seen and heard to even greater advantage in this big New Show World smash-hit.

Professional Artists' Concert February 5

The Annual Professional Artists' concert given by the Columbia School of Music, will take place in Orchestra hall, Chicago, Wednesday evening February 5 at 8:15 o'clock.

This school maintains a full symphony orchestra, the membership of which is composed of its pupils who will take part in this concert and on this occasion they will play an Overture by Glinka; the important symphony in C major by Schubert; a ballet by Delibes as well as the accompaniments for the various solists.

The artists appearing as soloists are Walter Spry, pianist; Ruth Ray, violinist; Leslie Arnold, baritone and George Lane, baritone. The orchestra is under the direction of Ludwig Becker, head of the violin department.

State Labor Bureau in Waukegan to Open Soon

Opening of the new state labor department employment bureau which is being established in Waukegan and which was set for February 1 has deferred for at least another week, due to delay in the receiving of equipment and supplies.

The bureau which has been established by the state labor department on authorization of the state legislature will provide a bureau in which persons seeking positions in Waukegan or North Chicago can apply for work.

Genuine Business Training

The atmosphere of a large business office with expert supervision, good equipment, plenty of light and sunshine, individual desks—these are conducive to a high grade of business education. All the commercial branches. New term beginning now.

Evanston Business College

Studio Building

1718 Sherman Ave.

because

they are juicy and tender, with a palate-tickling flavor imparted by buttermilk feeding and literally "sealed-in" by scientific chilling—

because their sealed white parchment wrappers protect them from damaging exposure and promiscuous handling—

because their greatest single contribution toward health and good taste is the complete removal, immediately after killing, of head, feet and entrails, leaving the bird "Ready-for-your-Oven"—

that's why—

people everywhere are serving

Ford Sedalia Chickens

available at these markets

JAMES BOWDEN & SON
9 S. St. Johns Ave.
SOBEY'S MARKET
511 Central Ave.

C. C. NIEBUHR
41 S. St. Johns Ave.
RAVINIA MARKET
Ravinia, Ill.