DEERFIELD HEAVIES BEATEN BY "U" HIGH

Playing desperately in the last quarter but failing to overcome "U" high's lead, the Deerfield heavyweights lost to University High of Chicago for the second time by a score of 20 to 16.

Due to the absence of Jack Thomas, the team had a pretty tough time of it. The boys fought every minute of the game. "U" high had a good defense. At the beginning of the game the boys were able to "suck out" the players. Hugh (Cy) Seyfarth stood out in the middle of the floor, waited for someone to come out after him, then passed the ball to Rudolph, who passed directly back to Hugh. Cy's speedy legs carried him through the network of "U" high's players and all was clear for a nice one-handed shot which neatly went through the hoop. After "Cy" pulled the stunt a few times, the "U" high team parked three men under the basket, forming a wedge. With the speed "Cy" was using and the way he was picking his way through the players, it looked as if he were picking his hole for a thirty-yard gain in football.

About two minutes before it was all over, the "U" high boys started to stall. Now if there is anything antagonizing about a basketball game, it's when the winning team stalls. Deerfield took time out. The boys came back by taking the ball away from the University men and going down the floor to pull one of those fast "sucker shots" for a basket. The final gun ended the Deerfield rush a few seconds later.

Notable Collection of Herb Specimens of Peru

Field Museum of Natural History has received 7,500 herbarium specimens and 1,000 wood specimens from the Peruvian division of the Marshall Field Jr. Botanical Expedition to the Amazon. This is probably the most extensive collection of its kind ever brought out of South America, according to Dr. B. E. Dahlgren, acting curator of botany.

Somebody who makes up the customs lists must have a sense of humor. He put the ukelele under the classification of musical instruments.
