

A Statement by Edw. Ahlstrom Republican Candidate for SHERIFF

After full consideration I announced my candidacy for Sheriff. I was sheriff 1922-26.

To Stay to Win

I am in this campaign to stay and to win. Support thus far given me is intensely gratifying and growing daily in volume. Without reservation I believe I am going to win.

The office of sheriff is now very largely an executive office—not a police department.

Real System

I inaugurated the first real business system in the office and refer to the County Auditor.

Ask Them

I leave my case for strictest integrity in executive action to any Judge—to any Attorney—to the State's Attorney.

I am asking your support because in my heart my belief is, because of temperament and experience, I am best qualified for the office.

No "Yes" Man

I am not asking your support because of being a "good fellow," a hand-shaker, a "Yes" man, because of family relationship, or because of my affiliation fraternally or otherwise.

No "Gang" Support

I have neither "millionaire" nor "gang" financial support. I don't expect the former, and won't accept the latter.

No Immunity

I have not and will not promise immunity to anyone at any price. I have not promised one job or a hundred.

No Side-stepping

Any statement made by me will be signed by me. No "friends" of mine or "campaign committee" will issue any public statement and not sign their names—no "false pretenses."

Right to Know

As tax-payers and citizens you want to know—have the right to know—and will know—over my signature, what I, the candidate, have to say.

Will Justify You

I will appreciate your support and justify it by conducting the office with fidelity, efficiency and economy.

Sincerely yours,

EDW. AHLSTROM.

TRYOUTS OF SCHOOL ASSEMBLY ASS'N.

Deerfield-Shields Students Hear Some of the Numbers; Westinghouse "Mechanical Man" to Be Seen in the Schools

The School Assembly Association organized in recent years to supplement high school work and enrich school life with monthly programs of vivid interest, held its annual tryout of speakers and entertainers at Highland Park on Thursday, February 6, and in Joliet and Chicago the two succeeding days. Of the forty-one candidates recommended by various members of the association twenty-seven were tried out before the advisory board of principals. Of these, fourteen appeared in the local high school auditorium before study hall groups of students. A "mechanical man" is also being built for the association in the Pittsburgh laboratories of the Westinghouse company. This will dramatize in a striking way the progress of modern scientific research.

The twenty-seven who appeared in the tryout are as follows:

Mr. Adam Puffer—Vocational guidance expert.

Mr. Arthur J. Beriault—A speaker and impersonator who reads Joseph Jefferson's old play, "Rip Van Winkle."

Mr. Howard Miller—A ventriloquist whose performance was entertaining but without educational value.

Mr. Leon Braveheart—An Indian who gave legends of his people and personal experiences in childhood and also after finishing Carlyle school.

Mr. Arthur D. Carpenter—The astronomer.

Mr. Walton Pyre—Shakespearean actor and reader who rendered passages from the "Taming of the Shrew."

Dr. David Spence Hill—Psychologist and former president of the University of New Mexico, who spoke on "Commandeering the Mind."

Mr. Jess Pugh—Humorist.

Mr. Alfred Stearns—Shakespearean actor and reader.

Dr. Paul O. Sampson—Food expert who talked on building an athlete.

Miss Pherne Miller—Niece of Joaquin Miller, the poet, who had stereopticon pictures of the colorful life and work of her distinguished kinsman.

Mr. Brayton Eddy—Young and brilliant scientist in the field of entomology.

Mr. Guy Caldwell—Nature and bird lover.

Mayor John J. Hill—South African railroad builder and friend of the late Cecil Rhodes.

Mr. Edward Reno—magician.

Mr. George Moriarity—Big league umpire and former manager and player with Detroit, who speaks on "Pinch Hitting versus Pinch Quitting."

Mr. George Abdule Elias—Shepherd boy of Chaldea, who served with Allenby in the Great War.

Mr. Robert M. Zimmerman—Professional diver whose fascinating subject is "The Bottom of the Sea."

Hon. Joe R. Hanley—Republican "whip" of the New York State Legislature, who speaks on "Good Citizenship."
