FROM LAKE COUNTYInteresting Happenings About This Part of North Shore; County Seat

Mrs. Caroline Woertz, wife of Henry Woertz, president of the Glen Rock Bottling works, and a long time and much respected resident of Waukegan passed away at her home last week.

Lewis I. Stewart, carpenter contractor in Waukegan for many years and well known in this part of the county, passed away in the Victroy Memorial hospital last week after an illness of three months. He was 62 years of age.

Peter Perron, North Chicago, walked into the Kenosha police station Sunday night to report that some one on the west side of Kenosha had sold him some moonshine. He had himself locked up in a cell charged with intoxication. Monday morning he was fined $2 and costs.

Mrs. Augusta Holstein, 75, of Half Day, fractured her leg last week in getting from bed when she fell. The aged woman had been in poor health for some time and usually had help in getting from bed, it was learned.

Fred Wright, a resident of Waukegan all of his life, died suddenly recently in the offices of the Cyclone Fence company, of which he was a traveling representative. He was 48 years old.

Inspection of several additional possible sites for the proposed new $335,000 federal building in Waukegan was made by J. A. Blanton, general building site agent for the United States Treasury department who visited in Waukegan for that purpose.

Francis Beckman, of Belvidere street, Waukegan, who is connected with the state as an inspector of weights and measures, has been appointed by the governor to represent the state at the national convention of scale men that is to be held in Chicago March 10, 11 and 12.

The institution of a city court for North Chicago became a civic issue last week when W. P. Breen, an official of the North Chicago Association of Commerce, appeared before the city council and proposed that the question of the establishment of such a court be put up to the voters at the coming election.

Supervisor Obee Is Injured in Accident

William J. Obee, of Highland Park, and a prominent member of the Lake county board of supervisors received painful injuries when his automobile left the paving on Route 21, north of Libertyville Wednesday night of last week. The machine was badly damaged. Mr. Obee was on his way home after a visit at Grayslake. His machine skidded on a turn in the road and ended up in the ditch. Obee was given treatment at Libertyville and was then taken to his home.
