

SAFETY HINTS FOR THE AUTO DRIVER

by Harry Sheahen

With this excellent weather has come one of the harbingers of spring the youngsters at play with marbles or ball on the parkway.

When children are interested in a game, their minds are wholly occupied with the game itself, and when they run out into the streets to retrieve a lost ball or toy, they do not stop to look and see if it is safe to do so. You know they have great faith in us grown-ups, trusting us to look after them.

I suppose that when we had all the snow and ice, this winter, you often wondered whether your brakes were working or if your tires were just skidding on the slippery roads. But since your tires are down on the bare pavement, possibly you have noticed that your brakes are out of adjustment. Possibly they are not equalized and make your car pull to one side or the other when the brakes are applied.

For the sake of the children's safety as well as your own have your brakes looked after—thus avoiding this cause of accidents. Some of the cars of today have brake settings as close as three one thousands of an inch—about the thickness of a human hair. It is obvious that the adjusting of brakes to that fineness requires the experience of a skilled mechanic. Why not have this attended to at once?

Your brakes may need only cleaning or minor adjustments. If they need relining, we will be glad to give you an estimate on this class of work.

Each week, we will have an article on some phase of automobile care. They are published for your benefit.

Yours for better Service.

T. ARTHUR SIMPSON

Candidate for Re-Election
to the office of County Superintendent of Schools

"One of the far-sighted ones who took up the plan is T. A. Simpson of Lake County, and to him goes the credit for the success of the venture in that county."

Charles Stokic, a special writer for the Prairie Farmer, in the issue of April 6, 1929.

"Those who are pessimistic about the possibilities of the rural school might well journey to Lake County, Illinois, and spend a day with Supt. T. A. Simpson. It will be more refreshing than a holiday and will provide inspiration for many a day."

S. R. Logan, assistant superintendent of schools, Winnetka, in an article for the Illinois Teacher, November 1928.
