

LOCAL GROUP AID BIG FLOWER SHOW

Lake Forest, Highland Park and Other Garden Groups are Entering Exhibits

After months of hard work the Garden Club of Illinois, with its member clubs in more than 90 communities of the state, has completed preparations for the Central States Garden and Flower Show to be held under its auspices at the Chicago Stadium for nine days starting April 5, and Mrs. Frederick Fisher of Lake Bluff, president of the state organization states that it will be a magnificent spectacle with a wealth of bloom and greenery that will amaze visitors.

The north woods of Michigan and the forest of Kentucky and Missouri were invaded this week by tree experts who are selecting more than 1200 trees up to 25 feet in height, balsam, cedars, spruce and other northern evergreens and southern cedars, which will be shipped to the Chicago Stadium where they will form the backgrounds for the full size gardens which will occupy the 40,000 feet of main floor space in the huge exhibition hall. At the same time reports from greenhouses near Chicago, where thousands of flowering plants are being grown for the show, indicate that the recent sunshine has brought the plants along in good shape and that a wealth of gorgeous bloom now is assured.

Local Groups Exhibitors

Among the gardens which will be of outstanding interest will be those of the Lake Forest Garden club, the north, south and west Chicago parks, the Cook County Forest Preserve naturalistic wild wood with its running stream, the North Shore Horticultural society's formal garden and those to be installed by a number of Chicago and eastern commercial growers. A pleasing feature of these gardens, aside from their individual beauty and size, will be their variety in type and treatment, among them being a formal Italian garden, a new departure along purely modernistic lines, rock and water gardens, informal plantings, formal gardens with fountains and hedges, as well as an entirely new thought in bringing a greater appreciation of nature to the public, a bog garden.

Semi-Tropical Planting

Of spectacular beauty and interest will be the semi-tropical planting which will occupy the west end of the stadium, climbing as high as the upper balcony and with a waterfall dropping 50 feet through the masses of dense foliage and exotic flowers, this will be rivaled by a garden being installed at the opposite end of the stadium and in which 17,000 bulb will be in full bloom.

Not to be outdone by the parks and commercial growers the 90 garden clubs composing the Garden Club of Illinois will exhibit a series of small gardens which will give the public an opportunity to see many new ideas in the treatment of various phases of gardening and the arrangement of plants and flowers. Home owners will get many valuable thoughts for use in their own gardens from these displays.

The garden clubs will also be generally represented in the prize competitions for which they are eligible. Among the classes which are bringing in a large number of entries and which also have a strong popular appeal are the arrangements and plans for treating the garden gate; the demonstration of porch arrangements; the miniature models of houses and gardens, a class which at past shows has been most popular; and living room flower arrangements.

The table decoration classes will again this year form an interesting exhibit, the entries exceeding in number those of any previous show.

Women are Interested

Women from this vicinity interested include Mrs. Otto Meisner of Bannockburn, in charge of living room flower arrangement; Mrs. William Aitken, formal dinner set for six; Mr. Kenneth L. Fowler, shadow box flower study; the Open Gate display, in charge of Mrs. W. R. Jones, chairman.

County Judge Persons Addresses Lions Here

County Judge Persons was the speaker at the regular luncheon and meeting of the Highland Park Lions club at noon Thursday of last week. Judge Persons gave a very interesting and informative talk on the work of the county court and especially with regard to probation work among delinquents. His address was interesting and instructive and was heard with close attention, and many expressions of appreciation followed. The club meets each Thursday noon at the Green Tea Pct.

Waukegan H. S. Cagers Win District Tourney

Staving off a spirited last quarter Libertyville rally, Coach Ralph Fletcher's Waukegan high school basketball combine won the championship of the district tournament held at the Waukegan high school gym by a score of 23 to 20 in the final game Saturday night.

Libertyville fought hard to overcome Waukegan's first quarter lead of 12 to 1 and were ahead by one point with only two minutes left to play. Baskets by Taylor and Margoian won the game for Waukegan.

Waukegan will meet Waterman next Thursday at Joliet in the sectional tournament and if the locals can triumph in the Joliet meet, Champaign will be the next stop.
