Troop 31

Troop 31 went out to the Cabin in the Woods last Friday night and Saturday morning. We arrived at the Cabin at five o'clock and immediately started to clean up the camp and build the fires.

We were sorry to see that some of the troops were very lazy and that the dishes were very dirty as a result of their laziness.

After dinner we told stories and then went to bed. The next morning we went on a hike and then went home.

At our last meeting we had a knotting contest. Harry Lankford's patrol won. For our game we played Capture the Flag.—Bob White, Reporter.

Troop 35

Troop 35 of Ravinia had its weekly meeting February 28. Scoutmaster Olson and Assistant Scoutmaster Copp could not attend so Committeeman Ewell took charge of the meeting. The first half hour was used for passing tests. After that we had 25 minutes of drilling with 40 minutes of play.

The Seagull patrol had its weekly meeting at Patrol Scribe Richard Suess home. We passed second and first class tests. We decided to pass Saturday at Great Lakes. The patrol meeting was closed with the oath and law.—Patrol Reporter Richard Suess.

Great White Eagle of Troop 35

The former seagull patrol of Troop 35 Ravinia has changed its name to the Great White Eagle. The meeting of the Great White Eagle was held at John Kraft's house. We had a pool game which was followed by a good meeting. During the meeting John Kraft gave some of the fellows positions as officers. The meeting ended with the scout benediction.—Bob Olson, Patrol Scribe.

Troop 32, Highland Park

Thursday evening at 7:15 our troop went to the Northwestern Observatory to see the moon and jupiter. 23 scouts were present and there were four drivers. Mr. Hurd, Mr. West, Mrs. Stratford, and Mr. Brush. We stayed there for two hours. We arrived back in Highland Park at 10 o'clock. We then separated and went to our homes.—Fred Solden.

Troop 45, Lake Forest

At the last meeting of Troop 45, Mr. Soreson was present to instruct us in marching and drills. Our meetings are getting better right along as all the boys are in uniform and nearly all are present. We play new scouting games also.

Training Course

The second session of the training course in Highwood and Libertyville

was even more interesting than the first one. We welcomed several new comers and all the patrol leaders were present.

A few rope stunts opened the meeting and then we had a discussion on the troop programs weekly, monthly and yearly. Patrol meetings with practise on the compass which we used later on in a compass relay. We climbed ropes and chopped imaginary wood for calisthenics of the mimetic variety. Using the quiz books with questions on the flag, but an uncertainty finished the contest because two patrols could not be spelled down.

The "Patrol Unit in Scouting" was handled by Bob Roeber, the senior patrol leader. He mentioned six points which showed the value of the patrol system, as follows: 1. Competition. 2. Discipline. 3. Personnel of officers. 4. Unity of group. 5. Development of more leaders. 6. Individual encouragement through closer leadership.

In Libertyville Mr. McManus handled a discussion on the patrol unit. Both programs are identical with the one conducted in Winnetka. In the game contest the Beavers had the edge on the other patrol. Bob Rouse says it will be changed by next time.

Deerfield Press Club

The Deerfield Press club held its weekly meeting on March 5 in the office of Mr. Charles Kapschull. There were two present, they were Kenneth Vetter and Milton Merner. We wrote reports and closed at 4:45 o'clock.—Milton Merner Press club News Editor.

Troop 52, Deerfield

The regular weekly meeting of Troop 52 was held at the Presbyterian church. 10 scouts were present. The meeting was opened with the usual ceremony after which the business was taken up and the court of award was discussed. We then worked on our projects of leather craft and chair caneing. After that games were played and then the meeting was closed with the scout benediction.—K. Vetter, Editor in Chief.

Patrol News

The Pine Tree patrol met last Wednesday evening at the home of Eldon Frost. Harold Huhn, Eldon Frost, Charles Osborn, E. Frost and Kenneth Vetter were present. Eldon Frost, Charles Osborn and Earl Knaak passed fire building and Earl Knaak passed Indian Sign language. Afterwards we played games and sang popular songs. Then a nice lunch was served. The next meeting will be held at the home of Charles Osborn.—J. Kenneth Vetter, Editor in Chief, patrol news.

The meeting closed with the scout law and benediction. It was announced that the next meeting would be held at the American Legion headquarters in Lake Forest.

Spend Night at Cabin

Arriving at the Cabin about 5 p. m. the officers of Troop 48 Lake Forest met Mr. White and some members of Troop 31. After lugging the equipment to the cabin, as the roads were too wet to drive near, the boys started the fires in the stoves and fire place, and made up their beds. Supper was then prepared and if you ever tried to cook in the dark you know what a fine time you have mixing a little dust and ashes in with the food, and using the same spoon to stir the beans and cocoa, and a few lumps of coal mixed in with the potatoes and corn seems to make it all taste so good. At least we all thought so because we wanted seconds. Sup-
