

Legion Posts Asked to Support C. M. T. C. in Present Campaign

American Legion posts are requested by James F. Barton, national adjutant, to lend their early support to the Citizens Military Training camp procurement campaign which will be underway throughout the United States by March 1, says a bulletin from the national headquarters of the Legion at Indianapolis.

"The C. M. T. C. movement, the outgrowth of the internationally recognized Plattsburg camps, is an important phase of national defense advocated by the Legion," said National Adjutant Barton. "The Legion has been instrumental in procuring a large part of the enrollment in the C. M. T. C. in the past.

"President Herbert Hoover has indorsed the C. M. T. C. as affording an exceptional opportunity to the young men of the country for a training which leads to vigorous health, physically, mentally and morally. Ex-President Calvin Coolidge has aptly termed the Citizens' camp "essential schools in citizenship." Such camps are indorsed widely by intelligent leaders of every political and religious faith throughout the country as a practical means of developing our youth in the wholesome surroundings of outdoor living.

Many Ways to Aid

"There are many definite ways that Legion posts may support the C. M. T. C. movement, as indicated by past experience. Virtually all Legion departments appoint a state C. M. T. C. officer who co-operates with the authorities in charge of the movement. County and post C. M. T. C. officers are then appointed by the Legion to effect a closer co-operation. Allotments of candidates are made to the individual Legion posts by the state headquarters. The post proceeds to obtain this allotment of boys who will enjoy the benefit of the camps. Units of the Auxiliary have aided the Legion posts materially in supplying names of prospective candidates.

"Posts have then given send-off luncheons for candidates. Hostesses are often supplied for the camps through Legion or Legion auxiliary efforts. More athletic equipment is often provided by the Legion. One of the most important contributions of the Legion has been the formation of C. M. T. C. clubs that include all former trainees. These clubs preserve the pleasant memories of the days spent in summer camps. Enrollment of the support of public schools, civic organizations, and industrial concerns, and the arousing public consciousness as to the merit of the training offered free in the C. M. T. C. have been important phases of Legion co-operation.

Lake County Hospital Reduces Its Operating Expenses in 3 Months

During the last three months the Lake County General hospital has operated for $4,392 less than it did in the corresponding quarter a year ago according to a report submitted to the county board of supervisors last week by Supervisor David Van Patten, of Newport township.

The actual operating expense was $18,781 against $23,236 for the months of December, January and February a year ago.

The reduction has come through the printing of the names of all who receive aid at the hospital. The printed reports, which appear in Waukegan papers every 90 days, show how much hospital service was received and if anything was paid by the patient. This step was necessary when it became impossible for the committee to keep the hospital expenses within the budget.

Van Patten stated that this year would find the institution within the appropriation.
