

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS HEARS TALK

Local Branch Addressed by Mrs. Lunde on World Court; Announcements

The Highland Park League of Women Voters met on Wednesday, March 19, at the Presbyterian church. The luncheon was well attended as usual, and before the feature of the day—an address on the World Court by Mrs. Laura Lunde—several interesting announcements were made.

Mrs. Hopkins, president, spoke of attending a meeting composed of the three league presidents and three chairmen from Waukegan, Lake Forest, and Highland Park, at which it was decided to hold a candidates' meeting in Waukegan the evening of March 29, giving those running for various offices the opportunity of addressing Lake county voters. Mrs. Hopkins also announced that the Finance committee had planned a "Silver Tea" to be given some time before the annual meeting. This will be held at Mrs. Hopkins' own home and will be entirely a social afternoon. Notices will be sent out very soon, and all members are cordially invited to attend, and to bring guests.

Legal Status Report

Mrs. Raymond Simons, chairman of Legal Status of Women, gave a report of the progress being made by that committee. She outlined what is being done in Hawaii, California, Massachusetts, Kentucky, and New York, to secure women on juries, and also mentioned the efforts to give women the same right as men, to retain or change their nationality.

Mrs. Lunde was introduced by Mrs. Grinnell, program chairman, who explained that Mrs. Lunde's subject would be the "World Court" instead of "Living Costs" as announced, as the Senate will probably soon be called upon to ratify the World Court in its revised form, this topic seemed the more timely.

Talks on World Court

Mrs. Lunde, who speaks very well on any subject and who explained that she is well accustomed to substituting, began by telling just how the league's department for International co-operation came to be formed. It was just after the war when a well-known woman who had served as a nurse in France appealed for some means of preventing the horrors witnessed.

Storm Breaks Flag Pole on Snite Property

The flag pole on the Albert P. Snite property on Central avenue, was felled during the storm on Tuesday. This pole which perhaps is a relic and a land mark here, fortunately broke off near the ground, which will permit the resetting of it as soon as weather permits. The flag pole which for many years was the tallest in Highland Park, was made from two masts of ships which were washed up on the beach a number of years ago, and was set up on this property, by Harry Clarke then owner of this site.

Women's Committee Sunset Valley Golf Club Plans Luncheon

That poor golf bug must have died from overwork or heat prostration. Hereafter it is to be hoped he will form some alliance with the weather man and continue his ardent operations.

The Women's Tournament committee of Sunset Valley Golf club was not daunted by the weather inclemency of Sunday, as it did not keep them from the meeting at the club house. Miss Stever is chairman. Miss Tschirgi, Mrs. Zartman and Mrs. Reeves are members. They are greatly enthused over the prospects of the coming season. The next meeting will be on March 30 at the club house.

To start the season a luncheon will be given all the ladies of the Sunset Valley club on May 9. No charge will be made on this occasion. An invitation will be sent to all Golf. (Continued on page 42)

Dr. O'Hair, to Speak at Lake Forest March 28

On Friday evening, March 28 at 8 p.m., pastor J. C. O'Hair, of the North Shore church, Chicago, also of radio station WPCC will preach at the Lake Forest Presbyterian church, located on the corner of Deerpath avenue and Sheridan road, under the auspices of the gospel mission in that city. We feel sure that those who are acquainted with this fearless defender of the faith, will not want to miss this opportunity. He will also be accompanied by Mr. Ralph Briggs, gospel song leader, who will have charge of the congregational singing. He will also render vocal selections. The Lake Forest Gospel mission extends a cordial invitation to one and all to unite with them on this occasion.

Moldaner & Humer Add New Fur Storage Vault

For the past six weeks men have been at work installing a large fur storage vault in the basement of the Moldaner and Humer building at 16 N. Sheridan road.

The vault is of the latest type and is equipped with one of the best ventilating systems in the country, besides being burglar and fire proof.

Moldaner and Humer, expect the work to be completed next week and are taking this opportunity to redecorate their shop and display room.

Highwood Family Are Driven out by Smoke

The Highwood fire department was called out shortly after mid-night Wednesday morning when an Italian family living at Washington street and the railroad tracks, were driven from their home by wood smoke. Fire from an overheated furnace had eaten into one wall, but the quick action of the fire department saved the building from burning and the residents were able to return to their rooms.

Mrs. Mina A. Mihills Buried In Arlington; Lived Here 42 Years

Mrs. Mina A. Mihills, widow of the late Merrick A. Mihills, and for 42 years a resident of Highland Park, died Saturday at the Highland Park hospital. Funeral services were held Monday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George W. Rossetter, 368 Lincoln avenue.

Mrs. Mihills, while on a trip abroad several years ago, had a fall from a motor bus in London, from which she never fully recovered. For some time she has been failing in health, and the end came on Saturday from the immediate effects of another fall. Interment was on Tuesday afternoon in Arlington cemetery, Washington, where her husband—an officer in the Civil War, is buried.

The following tribute to her memory was given on Tuesday at the Ossoli club by Mrs. Daniel Cobb.

"As time passes our thoughts turn back to a certain period in our lives around which cluster the tenderest recollections and fondest associations, the remembrance of which increases in strength with the passing of the years, and the breaking of these old ties and friendships become a real sorrow.

"Mrs. Mihills was one who felt strongly the obligation to do her bit. She watched with keenest interest the steady growth of the club. She took an active part in the programs each year, and she never shirked any of the work of the club. One thing I well remember about her, she never criticized, but had only kindly words of encouragement and praise for every one.

"She was a college woman, being the first co-educational graduate of Wooster college, Ohio, and her wonderful memory, her interest in books and in the current topics of the day, made her a most interesting companion.

"It was not alone in the work of the club that she made herself felt, for her vital interest in her church and the varied activities of the town never waned. Her pet hobby was the Community Shop and even after her criticized, but had only kindly words as long as it was possible to do so, and was always cheerful and uncomplaining under her affliction.

"Mrs. Mihills was a woman of strong personality, one whose unwavering principles, high ideals, and outlook on life were of the type of the old school. Above all, she was a loyal, steadfast friend whose friendship could be counted upon as it shone clear and true always."

Mrs. Mihills is survived by four daughters, Mrs. George W. Rossetter and Miss Mildred M. Mihills of Highland Park, Mrs. Charles W. Hayden of Los Angeles, Calif., and Mrs. Thomas W. Ready of Niles, Mich.

ITALIAN CRITIC COMMENDS ZOIR

European View of Art of Great Modern Painter; Exhibit at Woman's Club

While the Highland Park Woman's club is sponsoring an exhibition of the work of Emile Zoir, internationally known leader of the modern art movement and professor of the Royal Academy, Gothenburg, Sweden, it may be of interest to our readers to learn what European art critics have to say about his paintings. Following is an Italian appreciation of Zoir's art:

Italian Critic's Views

When trying such an experiment as to analyze the work of a prominent artist like Emile Zoir, writes the eminent Italian art critic, Dr. Valdemar Colucci, "I do it with a certain doubt. It is difficult, in a short article, to give the true characterization of the man,—an artist whose genuine has already attained universal recognition and admiration.

"In the younger generation of European art the powerful figure of Emile Zoir is looming strong and mighty against the darkness and despair now enveloping the art of Europe. Zoir is the Swedish champion of modern times, combatting the chaos and degeneration now prevailing.

"As Nordstrom, Larson, Liljefors and Zorn about forty years ago broke through the impasse, bringing with them the newly awakened French art and the fresh breezes blowing from the pioneers in Paris,—Manet, Sisley, Monet, Degas and others,—so has Emile Zoir's name become intimately allied with the modern art movement in Italy, France and Germany. We find there an artist paving his way to new roads which lead to the lofty regions where real art dwells.

Like Whistler and Manet

"Just as we were Whistler and Manet, who adventured on to new frontiers of expression, so is Emile Zoir. He has been strongly discussed. He ignores his public; he leaves it to the public to give their own interpretation to his artistic preachments. In all his works we find he detests the trite and conventional manner of copying nature. Yet, as a really creative artist, he seeks his models and his inspiration in nature.
