

WHAT Local Editors AND THE PRESS — SAY ABOUT Richard J. Lyons REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR Representative

"Dick Lyons fires the opening gun of his campaign for re-election. He is all pepped up and ready for the fray. We don't know anyone who could do more for his constituents than Dick has done in his initial term. Let's give the boy a hand."

LIBERTYVILLE INDEPENDENT.

"Representative Lyons' sterling efforts on Route 47 proves to McHenry County that he does not think of County lines. He put more effort in McHenry County road matters than has been put forward in many a day. Mr. Lyons has proved his worth and should be, by all means, returned to Springfield. No young man ever gave more in his first term than did young Lyons. The voters of this County or of the other two Counties would be ungrateful if they did not send this sterling young man back to Springfield with the biggest vote on record. We have an energetic, resourceful, alert Representative. Let's keep him."

WOODSTOCK EVENING JOURNAL.

"At the recent Primary in the Township of Libertyville, in which is his home, Mr. Lyons received the largest vote that was ever given any person who was ever a candidate for any office whatsoever, which speaks well for him and is a testimonial of his very high standing in his home community."

WOODSTOCK NEWS.

"That Speaker Shanahan recognizes the ability this young man possesses is manifested in the splendid appointments on important committees. We are predicting great things for our Representative, Dick Lyons, and feel sure that he will not be disappointed."

WOODSTOCK NEWS.

"Among the younger set which has broken into the House Body this year is Representative Richard J. Lyons from Mundelein, up in the 8th District. Lyons knew a thing or two about politics long before he ever saw the State House. He is a trim looking fellow, giving every indication of being able to take care of himself. We do not know how hard a fight he encountered in the Primary, but we are going to predict that the fellow who keeps up with this bright young man in campaigning will have to rise before the sun and go some all day. Lyons has what might be called Political Personality. His Sir name is no drawback for there is fight in the word Lyons, and the given name of Richard J. is no handicap, for whatever the Richard may count in history, the J. may indicate anything from Jerusalem to Jeminy Christmas."

"Representative Lyons is receiving the just and deserving commendation of countless friends who believing in him have not been disappointed and they are pleased with the energy and foresight of the popular 8th District Representative. Continued aggressiveness is surely expected by his constituents, and we predicted during the campaign that "Dick" Lyons would make good as a legislator and we are pleased to see him living up to our opinion as we knew he would."

WOODSTOCK NEWS.

"State Representative Richard J. Lyons of Mundelein, newly elected to this state office, has lost no time in showing his constituents that he is "on the job." Already he has introduced a bill calling for the naming of a commission to go into the milk situation. "Dick" is a live wire and we predict that he will be heard from often during the next two years."

WAUKEGAN DAILY SUN, JAN. 24, 1929.

"Representative Richard J. Lyons of Mundelein, who is serving his first term in the State Assembly, has made arrangements to keep the voters of the 8th District informed of the bills introduced in the legislature. Copies of the measures will be placed in the Court Houses and Farm Bureaus of Lake, McHenry, and Boone Counties. It won't be Dick's fault if local voters do not know the difference between Milk Commission bill and the Drivers' License Law."

WAUKEGAN DAILY NEWS.

"As a first term at Springfield last year Representative Lyons set up a very enviable record by being present and voting at every roll call, and by being on the job every minute of the time during the sessions. It goes without saying that this record will prove to be of material aid to him in the forthcoming Primary Election."
