

BOY SCOUTS

The program started at 7:30 with Troop 48 leading in the pledge of allegiance. Then came the stunts, 48 had a painting contest which created an intense interest. This was followed by 45's patrol stunts. The Panther led in a short railroad comedy which was followed by the Antelope patrol which gave an interesting play. Two members of the Silver Fox patrol told funny jokes.

The room was darkened and on an electrical arch the scout oath was flashed as it was read by a member of the scout movement. Next the scout law was repeated and one by one they flashed on each side of the arch.

The presentation of awards was next. Troops 44, 45, 46, 48, and 49 were well represented. Ian McPherson led in the scout oath and the meeting was adjourned. This was the largest meeting of its kind Lake Forest ever held.—Allen Hokenson, reporter, Troop 45, Episcopal church, Lake Forest.

PEGASUS PATROL NEWS, TROOPS 35

The Pegasus patrol met at the home of Bob Lautman on Monday, April 7. We opened with the scout oath and laws. The whole meeting was given over to passing first and second class first aid. Mr. Copp was the examiner. We closed with the scout benediction.—James M. Ewell, patrol leader.

DADS BEAT SCOUTS IN VOLLEYBALL

After the dads were beaten so badly in basketball, they challenged the scouts to a volleyball game on April 11. The dads were too much for us, and they won six out of the seven games played. The scouts are now planning revenge in the form of a baseball game. Everybody is excited over the three day camp on the Waukegan flats during spring vacation, from April 25 to April 27.—Roderic Smith, reporter Troop 33, Lincoln school, Highland Park.

Scouts Have Movies

On April 4, our troop opened the meeting with a drill, inspection and colors. Mr. Tibbetts closed the meeting at 8:30 to give a surprise and treat for all the boys that sold over five tickets for the Hobby Show, which was one of Lake Forest's best turnouts of the year. We are working hard to make next year's even better. — Ian McPherson, reporter Troop 45, Episcopal church, Lake Forest.

Troop 46

Mr. Sweeney, the new scoutmaster of Troop 46, took charge last Friday night. The first part of the meeting was spent in looking over the records and planning. After this we had games. Mr. Rybolt, scout executive, came down to the meeting also. A new patrol will be formed with Evert Archer as patrol leader as new members are coming in at our next meeting.—Robert Lundeen, reporter Troop 46, Lake Forest Presbyterian church.

Builds Transmitter

The prospect for a short wave transmitter at Camp Makajawan this summer is good. Our scoutmaster, Lee Fletcher, says that the transmitter is going to be started next meeting. At the last meeting we were given code practice and theory. After this Mr. Fletcher explained what the transmitter which the troop is going to build would be like. Then he explained how to tune his transmitter and showed us how to check on the transmitter's signal. After this the meeting was adjourned.

Register Now for Camp

The camp folders are out this week with application for Camp Makajawan enclosed. Register now — don't wait. You can save a dollar by getting registered before May 15. You can save another dollar by coming to camp with eight scouts and an adult leader from the same troop. Read the camp folder from cover to cover then make your plans to spend several weeks at Camp Makajawan. Now is the time to earn the money.

Deputy Sheriff Is Relieved of His Job

Fred Brown of Waukegan for three years the chief deputy on Sheriff Lawrence A. Doolittle's staff, was discharged from his position by the sheriff Wednesday of last week.

Doolittle's move was not unexpected since it has long been held by those close to the sheriff's race that Brown was devoting his energies to the campaign of a rival candidate. Doolittle, however, considered it unwise to make an issue of the matter until the election was over, says the Waukegan News-Sun.

The sheriff admitted that he knew Brown to have worked against him. "But there were other things," the sheriff said.
