

INFANT WELFARE IS BABY WEEK OBJECT

Society Calling Attention to
This Work This Week;
Local Center

April 27 to May 3 is Baby Week in connection with May Day which, by resolution of the senate, house of representatives and formal proclamation of President Hoover, is National Child Health day. During Baby Week the Infant Welfare society of Chicago asks everyone, adults in general and parents in particular, to consider the needs of the babies, many of whom suffer and die unnecessarily everywhere in all classes of society for lack of proper care.

Local Center

Highland Park-Ravina center, composed of women in this locality working under the chairmanship of Mrs. Edwin T. Johnson, Jr., supports Alice H. Wood station, located at 1964 N. Halsted street. Besides raising money for the support of this station, members of this center help in the weighing of the babies at the station conferences and hold regular meetings to make layettes for the babies.

The first Baby Week in the United States was held in 1914 under the auspices of the Infant Welfare Society of Chicago. Since then the observance has become annual and nationwide but Chicago is still a leader in this effort to focus public attention on the importance of keeping our youngest citizens in good health. Since 1911 the Infant Welfare Society of Chicago has been working on the problem of child health and by using always the best methods of child

Place Granite Boulder in Park as Memorial to the Late Mrs. Rosenwald

Under the direction of the North Shore Garden club a large granite boulder with suitable inscription is being erected in the triangular park at Roger Williams avenue in memory of the former Mrs. Julius Rosenwald, who during her lifetime always took great interest in the beautifying of the north shore. Permission to place the memorial in the park has been obtained from the East Park district. The boulder will rest in the center of a small pool, which will serve as a bird bath, and around the latter will be placed a circular seat of Lanon stone. The memorial has been designed by Jens Jensen for the North Shore Garden club.

Firemen Are Busy with Spring House Cleaning

While the city fire department has not been called out for many fires lately, the firemen always find something to do. Just now they are giving the interior of the fire station at Central and Green Bay road its annual spring cleaning and are hoping that before it needs another going over they will be in a new station. The firemen also have just finished overhauling the hook and ladder truck, which they gave an entire new coat of paint and varnish, greatly improving its appearance. In their leisure time the firemen have taken up horseshoes, and Dobbin's oxfords are frequently flying about the yard in the rear of the station these days.

When arrested, several hundred dollars worth of punchboard premiums were found in his possession. A pistol was found in a pocket of his automobile, and an additional charge of carrying concealed weapons was booked against him.

MAKING PLANS FOR NORTH SHORE OPEN

Sunset Valley Golf Club to Be
Scene of Annual Tourney
Monday, July 14

Sunset Valley golf course is in fine condition and the fairways better than ever.

The new locker room is under construction with good progress being made. It will be completed and in use before the North Shore Open Tournament takes place, as will the new greens at the sixth and eighth holes. Have you looked over the new seventh hole? There is no change in the green of the hole but the tee is moved west of the drainage ditch and farther south. The new sixth green will be interesting. Look these holes over, you will soon have to play them. The new arrangement will lessen the walk between the fifth green and the sixth tee and eliminate one of the faults of the course design.

North Shore Open

The North Shore Open Tournament still keeps the committee occupied in making the arrangements. The program that will be distributed is attractive. Many of our local merchants are availing themselves of the opportunity to place advertisements in it, and the golf trade is responding by asking for space.

There will be $1500.00 in cash and

Tennis Season Open on Ravinia Courts

The tennis season is now open at the Ravinia Tennis club courts and the courts are rapidly being worked into tournament form.

A great many tennis enthusiasts are warming up their muscles and many requests for playing privileges have been received by club officials. Play will officially open this week and Saturday should see a large number of enthusiasts trying to bring up their "batting averages" on the tennis courts. It is very surprising to those accustomed to playing a reasonably sane game during the playing season to find out how clumsy they are at the beginning of the year. The sooner this clumsiness is gotten away from, the better the feeling by all those affected.

It is planned to have the first open tournament on the club grounds about the first of June. More information of specific dates will be forthcoming in the next week or so. Anyone interested in entering the tournaments should call either Jerry Leaming, Highland Park 575, or Eugene Kearn at Highland Park 4066 after supper.
