Travels in Africa

Major John J. Hill, the first white man to traverse Africa from Cape Town to Cairo, is also scheduled. He has had a great many interesting experiences on that dark continent since he first joined the vanguard of a railroad expedition. He presents new and strange facts about the people "On the Bottom of the sea," tales told by Robert Zimmerman, an Olympic swimmer and deep sea diver, is also scheduled. "Bob" has won thirty-three national championships in marine events. An exhibition of deep sea curios will be a feature of his talk.

Jurien Hoekstra, who is a leading baritone and former leading man with Elsie Janis, has a repertoire especially suited to school audiences. He also gives a short talk on music appreciation.

Faith in the present younger generation is an outstanding characteristic of Geoffrey Morgan, who speaks on "What's the Use?" and "The Man Ahead." His talks inspire students who hear them to make the most of their work.

Art Young, who tells the romantic story of the bow and arrow, is a noted archer sportsman and conservationist. He has visited remote sections of the world to secure specimens of rare animals for the American Museum of Natural History. He gives target demonstrations and pictures with his talk.

Impersonates Authors

Sidney Landon impersonates, with

wigs, grease paints, and a precise imagination, the famous authors, many of whom he knew personally. His presentations awaken interest in the study of literature.

"Knowing Nature through Stories" is given by Floyd Bralliar, who talks, not of wild animals, but of the beasts and birds of our own acquaintance.

The dates for these assemblies have not yet been set. However, these speakers will appear at different times throughout the year.

BEGIN DRAWING PLANS FOR NEXT YEAR'S HOUSE

Under the direction of Mr. Davitt, the boys of the vocational department have recently started working on the plans for next year's house.

Plan 1930 Assembly Program

Among the various attractions scheduled for assembly programs for next year is the Mechanical Man, or Robot. Many other interesting talks have also been planned for by the Program committee.

The Mechanical Man—"The servant of the future"—will be demonstrated by one of its inventors. This is a showing of the practical application of physics which every student can appreciate.

Good oranges
 don't "just happen"
 neither does good milk!

NATURE plays favorites. If an orange is carefully grown, carefully picked and carefully carried to your neighborhood grocer, that orange is certain to be the finest orange you can buy.

In Milk, too, there is a reward for carefulness. Such care is given to Bowman's Milk in the highest degree. Taken only from the finest of dairy cows, it is extra good at the start. And that extra goodness is never lost. Bowman inspection, plus pasteurization, assures its reaching you as full-rich in cream, as fresh and as pure as when taken from the cow.

It is this unflinching care which keeps Bowman's Milk so sweet, so unmistakably superior in flavor. Order a bottle today. See for yourself why it is the most popular milk in Chicago and suburbs.
