Interesting Happenings About
This Part of North Shore;
County Seat

Nurses of all kinds throughout Lake county are looking to their starched collars and little white bonnets preparatory to attending the bi-annual national nurses' convention which opens June 9 at the Schroeder hotel in Milwaukee.

Michael Murphy, of Lake Villa, is circulating a petition for his candidacy as president of the Lake Villa village board. C. B. Dick's death recently created the vacancy.

Mrs. Mary Polmeteer Funk, probation officer of the county court for a number of years and one of the outstanding welfare workers in the middle west, has been elected president of the state probation society for a second time.

Elimination of all speakeasies, stills and breweries in Lake county is planned in a drive that is being fostered by State's Attorney A. V. Smith and Sheriff L. A. Doolittle, it was disclosed last week.

The city council of Waukegan last week announced that, in the future, all contractors will be required to post a guarantee that they will employ only local labor on city jobs and that they will use only local products where the required product is provided by a local firm, before they will be awarded contracts for city work.

Waukegan's Lake Shore drive improvement, twice voted down by the citizens at general elections and now being built by private subscription, is nearing completion in front of the North Shore Coke and Chemical company.

Isaac Bradley, 35, of 32466 Orange avenue, Chicago, freight conductor on the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad, was instantly killed at 1 o'clock a. m., May '28, when he fell from his train at Rondout. Thirty box-cars passed over his body before the train could be brought to a stop.

and on the point of death, Odell Skinner, 22, an employe on the Whitney Rockenbach farm between Wauconda and Cary, last week was rescued just before life had ebbed and was rushed to the Condell Memorial hospital, Libertyville, where it was said today that he would recover.

Waukegan water rates, which were raised of necessity several months ago on account of the expenses accruing on the new filtration plant, will be decreased within the year and will continue to be lowered in succeeding years, according to Commissioners A. F. Carney and R. J. Pearsall.

State Wins Wauconda
Right-of-Way Cases; Appeal Is Probable

A sweeping victory for the county, that may bear fruit in obtaining right-of-ways for paving projects, was won last week in the circuit court when a jury of property owners decided after five hours deliberation that property once priced to the county at $24,500 was actually worth $2,646.83.

In each instance the jury awarded less money than the county had offered originally when members of the board of supervisors and the engineering department deemed that a lavish offer would be better than the expense of going to court. These tenders all were spurned.

The case, brought in the name of the state highway department in behalf of Lake county and Wauconda township, was directed against three defendants, George Duberville, Vernon D. Kimball and H. C. Hughes.

The defendants plan to carry the case to the state supreme court, their attorneys reported.

How Illinois Cities
Rank in New Census;
Many Show Big Gains

The decennial roll call of the big American family nearing an end, and the Illinois cities are taking a backward look.

Thus far the inventory of Illinois has shown:

Peoria the second city in Illinois to attain the 100,000 rank.

East St. Louis displaced by Rockford as the third city in the state.

Aurora advanced to the "Big Ten" cities at the expense of Joliet.

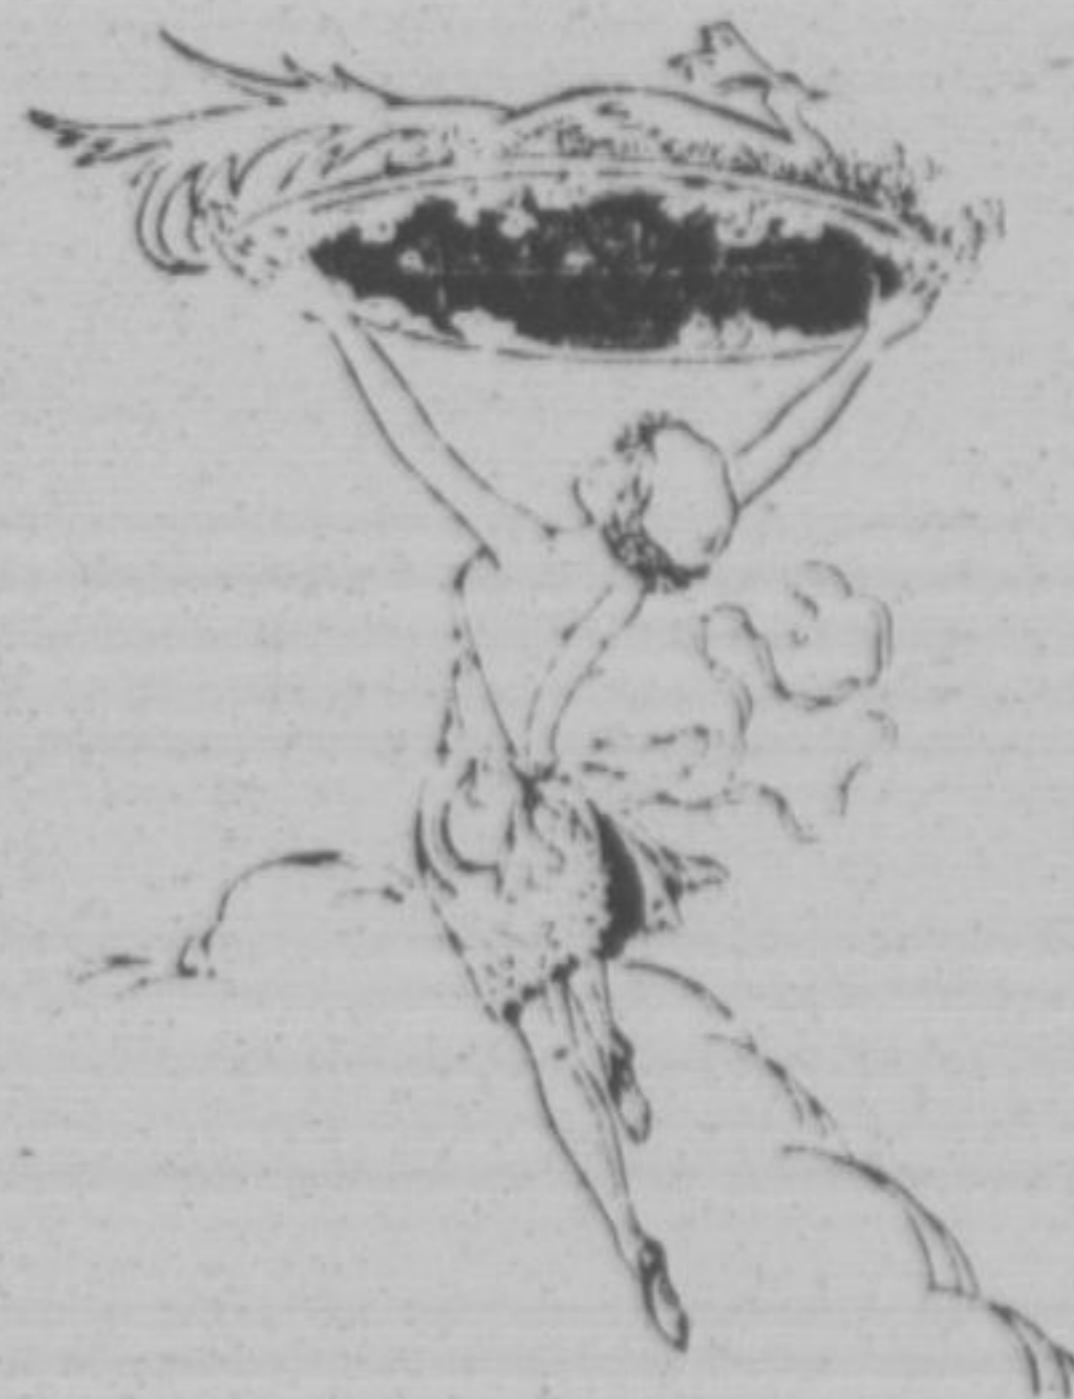

The Chicago metropolitan area gaining at the rate of 60 per cent.

A dozen new cities reached the 10,000 class.

Du Page leading the counties with a gain of nearly 140 per cent.

Conceding Springfield and Cicero their old places as the fifth and sixth respectively, among the cities of Illinois, the last decade has seen just two changes among the leading ten municipalities. Chicago and Peoria remain on top, the downstate metropolis raising its head above the 100,000 mark for the first time with 104,78 in the preliminary census survey. Chicago and Cicero have not completed their count.

After Cicero comes Oak Park, Evanston, Decatur, Aurora, Berwyn, Joliet, Quincy, Rock Island, Danville, Elgin, Waukegan, Moline, Bloomington, Alton, Galesburg, Belleville, Freeport and Champaign.

The piquant, delectable flavor of the food at our Tea Room strikes the dominant note for jaded appetites. The master hand of the culinary artist blends with perfect balance the savory and the wholesome and the charming atmosphere and efficient service leave nothing to be desired.
