Reject All Bids for Grading Deerfield Ave.

All bids submitted on the grading of Deerfield avenue near Deerfield Saturday were rejected by the road and bridge committee of the board of supervisors.

This step was deemed advisable because all bids varied so that errors were indicated. The lowest had been around $10,000 and the committee took this bid under consideration to decide whether this firm was the lowest responsible bidder.

No estimated cost had been forecast in this job by R. M. Lobdell, the county superintendent of highways, as his office has discontinued that old custom.

Of the bids taken that day a bridge job over the Des Plaines river was approved and the work let to a Joliet construction company.

Fire on Roof of Hotel Waukegan Gives Guests

More than 100 persons rushed to the street from the upper floors of the Hotel Waukegan shortly after 10 o'clock Friday night as the wood coping and orchestra pit that was once part of the roof garden, burst into flames.

The spectacular blaze that lighted up the sky followed the firing of roman candles and other fireworks a few minutes earlier.

After a half hour the blaze was extinguished and the hotel guests returned to their rooms. At no time was there any danger to the patrons. Damage was slight.
