

RAVINIA PROGRAM FOR FIFTH WEEK

New Opera to Be Presented for First Time Here; List of Week's Features

After weeks of preparation the opera patrons of the Chicago metropolitan district are to enjoy a long expected treat at Ravinia Opera on Monday night, July 21, when "Anima Allegra," one of the novelties announced last May for presentation during the current season, is to be brought to performance for the first time in this part of the country. There is every reason to know that this modern work by the Italian composer, Franco Vittadini, will find enthusiastic reception awaiting it at Ravinia, for it is in every way admirably suited to the genius of the Ravinia cast which has been chosen to interpret its various roles.

PHILINE FALCO

Although of Italian composition, "Anima Allegra" which in English means "The Joyous Soul" is Spanish in locale and reflects a phase of Spanish life as it was led in the homes of the conservative nobility not so long ago. It is not surprising that Mme. Lucrezia Bori should have been chosen by Mr. Eckstein as the exponent of the title role, who is called Consuelo. First of all, Mme. Bori has sung this role many times before with tremendous success. It is a typical Bori part, giving this charming prima donna every opportunity to display those graces of singing and acting, which have so endeared her to the Ravinia public. Consuelo is a Spanish senorita of the highest class, and so is Lucrezia Bori, and she is never happier than when setting forth the characteristics of her own people upon the stage.

D. A. R. Better Films Committee Review of Current Movies Given

Everyone realizes the motion picture is a recognized force in the community life of the whole country and since sound has been developed many new problems are brought out.

It has been brought to light that France, Spain, Mexico, Argentina and Brazil have informally but earnestly protested against treatment of their national customs in films produced in the United States. At a meeting of the National Conference of Social Work in Boston last month, regulation of the motion picture industry in the U. S. through a national commission, in order to assure the display of films in no way disparaging other races, religions, or nations, and giving a true picture of social conditions here, was urged.

The proposed commission would recognize the part the motion pictures should play in the cultivation of international friendship and world peace. Such efforts as this go hand in hand with the nationwide work of the D. A. R. in encouraging only better films. Following are comments on the forthcoming attractions at the local theatre.

"Return of Dr. Fu Manchu"—A sinister mystery tale of murder and intrigue. Good acting and beautiful photography offset in part the gruesome plot. For those who like thrillers this picture will provide them. Adults.

"On the Level"—A realistic crook story with amusing results. Fifi D'orsay supplies most of the comedy as well as unwholesome vamping. Doubtful entertainment.

"Show Girl in Hollywood"—Movie-mad girl lured to Hollywood by man who offers to put her in pictures—it is his specialty. Some color scenes of musical comedy stage dancing, no offensive drinking or gun-play. Amusing and harmless.

"The Texan"—Gary Cooper plays the hero role in mother-and-lost-son theme, but with little vigor and response. Mother and daughter are charmingly played. Only fair of its kind.

"Caught Short"—Farce-comedy of the daily life of two cheap boarding house landladies, who rise to sudden wealth in stocks and drop back again after the crash; fine comedy from Mario Dressler's inimitable acting, hilariously and ludicrously funny. Of little interest for children but amusing.
