"The Divorce" Feature at Alcyon Theatre

Norma Shearer's ability as an actress capable of handling difficult emotional roles is again vividly demonstrated in her newest Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer talking vehicle, "The Divorcee," which opens Monday at the Alcyon theatre.

In this picture, adapted from a story by Ursula Parrott, the attractive star plays the part of a woman whose attempts at showing her husband that there is a double standard for women as well as men result in utter disaster.

Jerry Bernard attempts to console herself for the loss of her husband, who has deserted her because of her affair with his best friend, by living a life of perfect freedom even if she has to break all social codes in doing so. The husband's previous liaison with a divorcee had determined the high-strung society girl that she would meet him on common ground.

Plat Has Ingenious Solution

Her fast pace comes to an abrupt end when she finds herself on the verge of breaking up the marriage of one of her friends whose husband has lost interest in her as the result of a facial disfigurement which follows upon an automobile accident. How she finds a way out of the matrimonial chaos makes up what easily stands in the front ranks of this year's talking screen dramas.

No little of the success of this picture is due to the work of Miss Shearer's large supporting cast, brilliant performances being given by Chester

Morris as the husband, Robert Montgomery and Conrad Nagel as Jerry's lovers, and Helen Johnson, George Irving, Tyler Brooke, Mary Doran, Robert Elliott, Helene Millard and Florence Eldridge in minor parts.

The direction of Robert Z. Leonard is more than adequate, while the picture sets a new standard in the matter of scenic effects, lavish interiors and luxurious costumes.

Ft. Sheridan Loses to St. James Sunday

St. James defeated Ft. Sheridan last Sunday by a score of 15-0. Lindwall pitched faultless ball for the victors allowing but two hits, while the home boys collected 21 from Ft. Sheridan pitchers.

Friday evening, St. James will play the fast stepping Waukegan Majors in a twilight game at Highwood field. The game will be called at 6:15.

Next Sunday, St. James gets back into the tri-county league schedule when they meet Niles Center. Niles Center is tied with Northbrook for first place at the end of the first half of the season, while St. James and Deerfield are tied for second place. St. James expects to go up as far as possible, as soon as possible.
