Eye-Glass Peddler in County Defrauds Aged
 Woman; Takes Her Cash

Representing himself as Dr. Frank J. Williams, Waukegan eye specialist, a confidence game operator forced his way into the home of Mrs. Alice Spring of Millburn Tuesday evening of last week and took $117, leaving a cheap pair of eye glasses for the woman.

The fraud was discovered Wednesday when Mrs. Spring called at the offices of Dr. Williams at 19 N. Genessee street, Waukegan. When he came to the door she asked for Dr. Williams and he told her that he was the doctor. She then learned she had been beaten out of all the money she had in her home at the time.

Mrs. Spring, who is a widow, told Dr. Williams that a man had come to her door, stating that he was Dr. Williams, and that he would like to examine her eyes. As she had heard of Dr. Williams and was having trouble with her eyes, she permitted him to enter the house.

After a cursory examination, the man said her eyes were in bad shape. He handed her a pair of glasses he took from his pocket, and said the charge would be $74. She went to get her pocketbook and returned with its contents, $117, and the man took it all.

As the glasses did her no good, Mrs. Spring came in to see Dr. Williams last evening and with him she went to the sheriff's office where she repeated her story.

Grayslake Auto Accident Last Week Fatal to Child and Grandmother

Two persons, a five year old girl and her grandmother, were fatally injured, and four others hurt, one perhaps seriously, when the automobile in which they were driving to Chicago from a birthday celebration in Grayslake overturned one half mile southeast of that village at 7 o'clock Wednesday night of last week.

The dead and injured are:

Dorothy Tatce, 5, 6834 Altgeld avenue, Chicago, dead.

Mrs. Marie Benning, 52, 925 Mariana street, Chicago, dead.

Martin Thellman, 45, Hillside inn, Grayslake, driver of the car.

John Benning, husband of the dead woman.

Mr. and Mrs. Curt Tatce, parents of the dead child.

Injuries Prove Fatal

Mrs. Benning died enroute to the Elizabeth Condel Memorial hospital in Libertyville, while the child died in the offices of Dr. Herbert Struthers of Grayslake, where the injured persons were rushed following the accident. Both Mrs. Benning and the Tatce girl had fractured skulls, internal hurts and severe bruises. They did not regain consciousness.

Thellman, driving the car, was rushed to the St. Therese hospital after being given emergency treatment by Dr. Struthers, and is suffering from possible internal injuries, severe bruises and lacerations. He has no broken bones.

Benning, whose 58th birthday party was celebrated at the Hillside inn yesterday, received a badly cut hip and back, but was discharged from the Libertyville hospital after treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Tatce, parents of the dead child, were the least injured of the party, receiving only slight cuts and bruises besides being shaken up by the crash. Mrs. Tatce was almost prostrated with grief upon learning that her little girl had been killed in the accident.
