

Two thousand C.M.T.C. Students Take Oath of Allegiance; Other Notes

In the presence of many distinguished visitors, including Admiral Walter S. Crosley, of the Great Lakes Naval Training station, Brigadier General C. H. Conrad, Jr., last Saturday administered the Oath of Allegiance to the two thousand C.M.T.C.

students who are this year attending the sixth such camp held at this Post.

The Military Training Camps ass'n has submitted four scholarships from Illinois institutions open on an unrestricted competition to all students of the C.M.T.C. who meet certain qualifications, it is announced.

The scholarships offered are as follows; University of Chicago, Loyola university, and De Paul university, all Chicago; and the Bradley Polytechnic institute, Peoria, Illinois. The former three are open to all students; the latter only to those from Peoria county. The former carry full tuition fees; the latter $175.00 towards tuition charges.

Governors Day

Saturday next, the 9th, will be known as Governors day, when the three Governors of Illinois, Wisconsin, and Michigan—the Hons. Emmerston, Kohler, and Green—will be present and will take part in the many activities planned for them. There will be a special parade and review on this day.

ert Lidicker won, Elmer Hargrave was second; the third place contestant was disqualified.

The contest for sailboats of children under 10 years of age was won by the boat, owned by Jack Silby, whose boat was sailed by Ruby Welker, the only girl to place in any event. Kenneth Borgason was second, and Billy Okey third.

There was one classification that included any kind of boat model. This event was won by Bobby Ross, Warner Wiebolt second, and Edward Norcross third.

In the home made boat contest Charles Nicholls took the honor with a square-rigger. Roy Sorenson sent his 24-inch sloop to second place, and Edward Norcross slipped his schooner into third place.

The oldest boy competing in the boat contest was Charles Nicholls, 16 years old and the youngest was Johnny Jacks, 4 years old.

A group picture of the children with their boats and planes was taken for the Press by Hecketsweiler Studio and will appear in next week's issue.

The airplane duration contests were run at the same time as the boat contest in a nearby field. The first event was the junior R. O. G. duration contest, and it was won by Phyllis Copp, whose little plane stayed in the air 17 4/5 seconds. She was closely followed by Kent Wonnell, whose best trial was 16 4/5 seconds. Billy Fisher was third with 10 seconds. In the intermediate R. O. G. contest Fritz Kaumanns won, and Joseph Kenicott was second. There was no third place.

The senior stick model went to Hubert Lidicker; his plane stayed in the air 16 3/4 seconds. Robert Jacks was second, and his time was 15 seconds.

In the commercial model contest Richard Rioux sent his plane up for 31 4/5 seconds to win. Earl Gossweiler took second with 22 3/5 seconds, and Robert Jacks was third with 14 seconds.

The only entrant in the twin pusher type contest was DeWitt Nelson. His plane, sent up for one trial only, remained in the air 51 4/5 seconds.

The winner of each class will compete in the National Air Race model contest on August 23rd.

Attractive Program at Deerpath Theatre During Coming Week

Two outstanding features mark the Deerpath theatre program for the ensuing weeks. On Sunday and Monday Ruth Chatterton appears in "The Lady of Scandal," and on Thursday and Friday Al Jolson comes in "Mammy." Other pictures during the week are all of a high order of merit, with popular screen stars in leading roles.

Saturday, August 9, one day only, Charles ("Buddy") Rogers, in "Safety in Numbers," with Kathryn Crawford and Josephine Dunn, a roguish revel of love, laughs, lyrics and lace.

Sunday and Monday, Aug. 10 and 11: "The Lady of Scandal" with Ruth Chatterton in the most amazing role of her notable stage and screen career, supported by Ralph Forbes and an excellent cast. The story is screened from the brilliant play, "The High Road," which ran a year in New York.

Tuesday and Wednesday, Aug. 12 and 13: Nancy Carroll in "The Devil's Holiday," with Phillips Holmes, James Kirkwood, Hobart Bosworth and Zazu Pitts. A false and furious modern merry-go-round of falsehood and frame-ups.

Thursday and Friday, Aug. 14 and 15: Al Jolson in "Mammy" with Lois Moran, Louise Dresser, Lowell Sherman, Tully Marshall and Stanley Fields. Nothing but frolicsome fun, new Irving Berlin songs and the king of entertainers at his inimitable best.

Added attractions daily include sound news and cartoons and the best comedies obtainable.

Leave Ft. Sheridan

Availing himself of a month's leave of absence, preparatory to sailing in early September for his new station in the Philippines, General Conrad relinquished command of the post Tuesday after eighteen months' service as commanding general of Fort Sheridan. General and Mrs. Conrad will depart on leave of about the middle of the month, traveling by auto via the Yellowstone National Park, to San Francisco, from which they will take the transport.

General Conrad's going recalls the fact that he has been at Fort Sheridan twice before, once as a child, when his father was in command here; and again when he was a Lieutenant shortly after graduating from the Military Academy at West Point.

General Conrad's career has been one of exceptional brilliancy ever since his graduation from the Academy in 1895. He commanded a regiment overseas throughout the World War, and was in the Inspector General's Department for five years, being commissioned a Brigadier General therefrom in October 1928.

General Conrad is a graduate of the Mounted Service School, 1916; an honor graduate of the School of the Time, 1920; and a graduate of the Army War College, 1923. He received a B. S. degree from the University of Illinois, in 1922, and was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal for his services overseas during the World War.
