

Nothing Brings Success More Than Hard Work

IF YOU would establish a basis for bank credit, don't overlook the habit of industry. Coupled with honesty and thrift it forms a strong support to your credit standing.

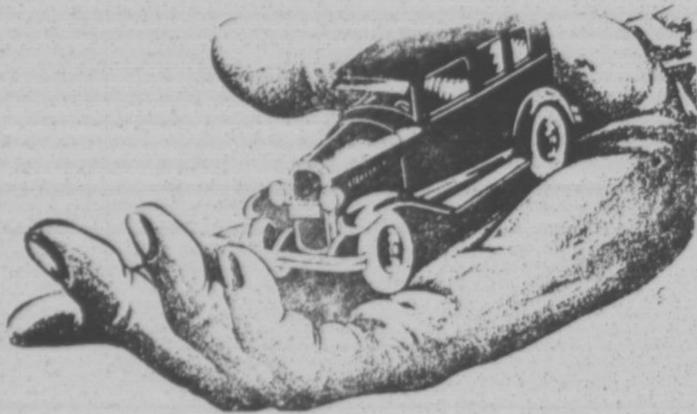

Experience has taught us that few people succeed unless they are industrious—unless they are hard workers. When we see a man sticking close to his job day in and day out, his credit rating goes up.

We are always glad to talk to folks who are interested in building up credit. Come in any time.
