A & P became a leader among food merchants, slowly and naturally. Ask yourself why A & P grew . . . It grew because the public accepted and encouraged A & P's methods of doing business.

The A & P store in your neighborhood is there because great numbers of women want it there.

New Packard Models on Display by Dealers Here

The new improved Packard cars have just been announced to the public. They are characteristically Packard in general appearance and in fittings and other details. However, many refinements have been added. There is a substantial increase in the power of the motors. The four speed transmission gives a quick change between gears with all the advantages in traffic and traffic pauses obtainable in a four speed transmission. Mechanical improvements have not exceeded body refinements and there is a complete new line of color combinations scientifically selected for perfect harmony and good taste.

In the new Packards the custom and deluxe lines have been consolidated into a new deluxe line with 11 different body types and offered, it is announced, despite improvements which have been added, at approximately $1,000 less than the price of the former deluxe cars. A substantial decrease has also been made in the price of the standard eight five passenger sedan as compared with that of last year.

Announcement of the new cars discloses the further news that Packard has expanded body building within its own factories to include a plant for the manufacture of individual custom bodies have been supplied by custom body builders.

Inspection of the new cars beside those of the previous series discloses that they are not greatly different in appearance. A complete review of the cars show that, in a year when all buying and investment is perhaps being done more thoughtfully and with an eye to the future, Packard has devoted its attention intensively to refinement of details in a car which already had proven to be the most popular it had ever built, it is remarked by George Koon, in discussing the new Packards.

Mary Gehr in Senior Year at Art School

Mary Gehr of Ravinia is the talented young actress whom this town knows very well. She has appeared in almost all of the amateur dramatic offerings in Ravinia, and is now embarked upon her senior year at the Chicago Art Theatre school in the Fine Arts building. She will take part in several of the productions to be given by this group of Moscow Art theatre disciples this season.

Miss Gehr's history with the theatre goes back several years. Long before the school was founded she saw Mr. Lazareff's company on the stage and then and there determined to some day join them. After a year at Smith college, she came to the Chicago Art theatre school, crowding in summer courses and winter courses and everything else she could get.

On Sunday, she was loaned back, so to speak, to the Drama Workshop for a single performance of a part she prepared and often appeared in under the Chicago Art theatre tutelage.

The company of the Chicago Art theatre, founded by Ivan Lazareff, is happily remembered in Ravinia for the many fine dramatic productions it offered here.
