We've built a shoe
to fit our convictions
about fitting the foot

We have some very definite ideas about the way a child's shoe should be built to assure proper support and comfort for the tender bones and muscles of the growing young foot.

We have again expressed our convictions (deep-rooted in twenty years of experience) in the specifications for these newest of Pool & Piper Shoes for children.

We call them Dr. Right and Dr. Left because they guard foot-health every hour of the day. You won't find them elsewhere because they are made for this store alone. They are as exclusively our own as a Pool & Piper fitting.

And, as you would expect, they are to be had in every juvenile size and width.
