If the story be simple, the moral be plain

Who enjoys himself shall rejoice again.

John McCormack at Deerpath Oct. 8 and 9

In "Song O' My Heart," his first audible picture for the screen, John McCormack, the world's greatest lyric tenor, sings 11 numbers, logically introduced in the action of the delightful lyrical romance, which comes to the Deerpath theatre on October 8 Through the medium of the movie-tone, the voice that has always been proclaimed great is considered to be made greater via the singing screen.

Of the entire repertoire, "I Hear You Calling Me," "Rose of Tralee" and "Little Boy Blue," are perhaps the most appreciated numbers.

"Little Boy Blue" is based on the poem by Eugene Field and set to music by Ethelbert Nevin. In singing "Little Boy Blue," Frank Borzage, who directed "Song O My Heart," has deftly introduced a pictorial effect of a little boy, his dog and his toy soldiers, giving an added human touch.

"I Hear You Calling Me," is so identified with the great tenor that he rarely fails to include it as an encore during his concert programs.
