Fires At Bandits

PETER LOESCH

Peter Loesch, special night policeman in Highland Park business district, who last Friday morning fired at two bandits attempting to break into restaurant. D. A. R. Better Films Committee Review

The pictures listed for the coming week will prove to have little value for youthful audiences but if the choice must be made we would suggest:

"The Dawn Patrol" with Richard Barthelmess. There is notable air photography, and some fine moments in the play. It is thrilling and rather strong for children.

"On Your Back" Irene Rich and H. B. Warner give outstanding performances in this entertaining comedy drama. Miss Rich's role is delightful. Adults.

"Holiday" One of the best character comedies yet made. Anne Harding's role as the rebellious daughter of wealth, is an example of screen acting at its best. Intelligently done, good for adults and youths but beyond children.

"Dancing Sweeties" with Sue Carroll, a dancing, jazz made unwholesome picture with little to recommend it to any audience of good taste and discernment.

Christian Science Reading Room Moves

The Christian Science reading room is now located in its new quarters at 43 N. Sheridan road, in the corner store room of the Sher-Park building. The interior has been remodelled to suit the requirements of the reading room, and a room for board meetings also is provided. The new quarters are commodious and comfortable and convenient to the downtown and residence districts. During the removal from the former location in the Alvon theatre building the reading room was closed on Monday and Tuesday of this week.

NIGHT POLICEMAN FIRES AT BANDITS

Officer Peter Loesch Again Demonstrates His Efficiency in Emergency

Peter Loesch, special night police officer in the business district of Highland Park, again demonstrated his efficiency early last Friday morning, when he surprised two burglars attempting to break into the rear of the Northwestern cafe on South St. Johns avenue.

The men were drilling holes in the rear door of the cafe and fled at the approach of the officer. The latter ordered them to stop and when they continued their flight he fired twice. He believes that one of the bullets took effect as he saw one of the bandits whirl suddenly and run down an alley. Careful search by the police through the entire city, however, failed to discover a trace of the pair, who are believed to have escaped in an automobile.

Killed Bandit in 1929

On January 13, 1929, Loesch prevented a burglary of Fell's clothing store close to the scene of Friday morning's shooting by killing one burglar and causing his two companions to flee. Both were later captured.

Was Wounded Before

Loesch, whose police record is an excellent one, was himself wounded in the right leg during the gun fire at that time, but, firing from the ground put three bullets into the body of

Give Benefit Bridge for Park Ridge School

Mrs. Walter Cowan of 709 Lincoln avenue, is arranging tables for a benefit bridge party tomorrow (Friday) afternoon for the Park Ridge School for Girls.

The purpose of the school is to provide an habitating haven for dependent girls between the ages of six and sixteen who have been left homeless and helpless—give them education and training and a chance to grow up under wholesome influence.

The school was established in 1876 and was called the Illinois Industrial School for Girls. It was located at Evanston. The school was moved to Park Ridge and its name changed in 1909. The school buildings are situated on a forty-acre plot in the edge of Park Ridge where fresh air, sunshine and outdoor recreation builds healthy bodies, and wholesome environment tends to a high standard of moral character.

At this particular time substantial help on the part of friends is sorely needed.
