Greta Garbo in her second all-talking picture, "Romance," Ruth Chatterton and Clive Brook, the famous pair of "Charming Sinners" and "The Laughing Lady" appearing in "Anybody's Woman," and the thrilling and unique jungle picture, "Ingagi," are the outstanding features of the ensuing week's program at the Deerpath theatre, Lake Forest. The daily schedule is as follows:

Thursday and Friday, Oct. 30, 31—Jack Oakie in "The Sap from Syracuse," with Ginger Rogers. An added feature is Mr. and Mrs. Gifford Pinchott and their son, "Giffy," in a talking picture of their adventures in the south seas.

Saturday, Nov. 1, matinee and evening—"Ingagi," jungle secrets unbelievable sage women photographed in the secret lairs of the gorilla; shambling, giant ape-brutes in the shadowy recesses of "darkest Africa."

Sunday and Monday, Nov. 2 and 3, (Sunday matinee continuous 2 to 11)—Greta Garbo, in "Romance," with Lewis Stone and Gavin Gordon. A drama deep as your soul, tender as your heart, a tale of heartbreak and happiness, is the way one screen critic describes this fine feature.

Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Nov. 4, 5 and 6—Ruth Chatterton in "Anybody's Woman," with Clive Brooks, Paul Lukas and Huntly Gordon. The incomparable dramatic actress of the talking screen in the love drama of the year.
