DRAMATIC READER AT WOMAN'S CLUB NOV. 18

Of an attractive personality, with a charming voice, possessed of keen insight into the minds and motives of men and gifted with a delightful sense of humor, Miss Summers has the faculty of making a play live before the eyes of the audience, while she deftly changes characters merely by a change in voice inflection, in attitude, or expression of features or hands.

Because the copy of "Michael and Mary," by A. A. Milne, for which Miss Summers has been waiting for months, did not arrive, she will read one of the popular successes of nine years ago, "The Circle," by Somerset Maugham, in which Mrs. Leslie Carter and John Drew starred. This play is so diverting with its sparkling Maugham wit, and yet has such a sound underlay of serious thought, that it is bound to interest and stimulate those who are fortunate enough to attend this meeting.

Indoor Carnival

The Holy Name society of the Holy Cross church invites the public to their indoor carnival, which will be held in the parish hall on Monday evening, Nov. 24.

A five dollar door prize will be given away, but this is a mere item as to the other prizes in the way of turkeys and other useful and attractive articles.

Reserve the date and plan to attend this unique and entertaining affair.

There will be no admission charge, and refreshments will be served.

HIGHWOOD TO PLAY PEACHES ON SUNDAY

last two years because of their enviable string of victories. The score was 20 to 0.

In this encounter the first half was fairly even, being a kicking duel between Lindenmeyer and Haas, but in the last two chapters Highwood outplayed the Elks, to score three touchdowns. Allens scored a few plays after the kickoff opening the second half. This keeps Les still out in front as the leading scorer. The Elks booted to Highwood and the locals again scored this time, Cronkite carrying the ball over. In the middle of the fourth quarter Rogan made a 30-yard run in back of perfect interference for the third marker. Highwood was the best team defensively on straight football but could not seem to cope with their opponents passing attack in the first half. Nick Williams deserves mention for the way he boated the ball on kickoffs.

Don't forget kickoff Sunday is at 2:30. See you all there.
