

trict to another and no loss of time when all enter the high school.

"The Deerfield-Shields Township high school is a big industry. 1277 students attend the day school during the school year 271 attended the summer session, over 400 have been enrolled this year in the evening school. Several hundred adults make use of the tennis courts, swimming pool, and gymnasium. A school for scout executives meet there regularly. Our auditorium seats 1700 people and it is filled to overflowing at school plays and stunt nights. Thus you will see that the school gives regular instruction to not far from 2000 persons, and it contributes to the happiness and well being of perhaps 2,000 more, one in every six persons in our combined townships.

"About 100 persons are employed. 60 of these are teachers, 14 of them are janitors, engineers, etc. There are four office clerks, and there are 17 employed in the cafeteria. The cafeteria feeds 1100 persons daily. It is entirely self-supporting, and yet in these hard times they have made it possible to get a bowl of rich soup and a thick slice of bread there for five cents.

"In order to find out what might be done to serve the students more fully, the principal had every student write on this theme: 'School, This Year and Last.' Here is the way one little freshman girl ended her paper—I shall let her words end mine, too: 'When we were at Grammar school we were led to believe that we would be laden with homework and we wouldn't like high school. They were right. We don't like it, we love it. I'm glad I'm here!'"

WILDER'S SKETCHES NOW ON EXHIBITION

most places though each would supply subject matter for a season or even for years. The Black Hills, Glacier Park, and New Mexico were especially interesting and New Mexico, being the last stop, all the remaining time was spent there so that there is much material from this interesting country.

For Home Decoration

At present it is not his ambition to paint big exhibition pieces but to try to fill the gap in the supply of medium sized pictures for home decoration at prices the average householder can afford.

On this subject Mr. Wilder says, "There is no reason why people of moderate means should not have good paintings if they want them and this exhibition is an effort to prove that statement. There is so much bunk in art that those who think they do not know art are afraid to buy unless prices are high. Incidentally if they can't afford high prices they go without."

"However, Jock Gordon fiddled his most beloved numbers on a prominent Michigan avenue corner for several hours during which time some of his fondest admirers passed him unnoticed and he collected only enough to buy his dinner. Perhaps I will be in the same boat but those who have bought my stuff continue to like it better and that is a good sign"

Discarded Tinfoil Helps Charity Fund

As an added means of increasing their income, the Hospital Auxiliary will maintain a box at the Thrift Shop for discarded tinfoil. The tin-

DEERFIELD-SHIELDS LOSES TO NEW TRIER

Closes Season with Hard-Fought Battle with Old Rival; Good Showing

New Trier's power plays were too strong for the fighting Deerfield-Shields' gridders in the second half, and the visitors consequently hammered out a 13-0 victory in the homecoming game last Saturday. It was the last game of the year.

The contest was a very slow, uninteresting exhibition in the first half, with both teams being penalized frequently for roughness. Deerfield held a decided advantage in this half as they threatened several times, but the powerful line of New Trier held each time. "Donnie" Bartlett was missed terribly throughout the game, although Jimmy Berube showed that ground could be gained through New Trier's line.

Boylston Scores

The second half belonged entirely to New Trier. The Green and Gray put on a splendid 70-yard march at the beginning of the third period that terminated with Boylston scoring the six points. Fullback Boylston plunged for the extra point.

After an exchange of kicks late in the quarter, the Bluebacks again failed to stop the powerful off-tackle plays of New Trier, and, after holding them on the three yard strip for two downs, Freddy Lind finally hurtled the line for their second touchdown.

All credit must be given to Deerfield's small but fighting line, who, in every game this year, have been up against weight odds. They showed their stuff against New Trier.

Captain Bob Lester, Matt Maiman, Ed Fucik, Gordy Leonard, Bruno Benvenuti, and Tommy Strenger all played their last game for Deerfield-Shields, and their shoes will be mighty hard to fill.

Junior Sisterhood Busy with Dance Plan

The North Shore Congregational Israel Junior Sisterhood has been busy completing plans for its big Thanksgiving dance, to be held at the temple in Glencoe on Wednesday evening, Nov. 26 at 8:30 p. m.

All members and their guests who are either at home or in the school community are cordially invited. The patrons are: Mr. Harry L. Canmann, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Livingston, Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Hartman, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hirsch, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvia Hirschberg, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Goldstein and Dr. and Mrs. Harry Jackson.

A five piece orchestra from the Northwestern university has been engaged. Refreshments will be served.

foil can be sold, thus increasing the Auxiliary's fund. It is hoped that the public will assist by saving the tinfoil for them.

There are three divisions of the charitable work, namely, Hospital Auxiliary, Northwestern Settlement, Infant Welfare, and various other local charities.

COMMITTEE REPORT ON SOCIAL SERVICE

against donations. A paid secretary salary is donated by the Rotary club, office space and telephone by the Chamber of Commerce, and storage space by the Iredale Fireproof Warehouse. At the present time this organization is functioning only for the benefit of actual residents of Highland Park and Highwood, only.

More Contributions Needed

While the response has been most gratifying, according to the committee, citizens of Highland Park and Highwood are urged not to slacken in their support because the need for work, clothing and supplies will go right on. In fact, with the coming of colder weather the situation will become more acute as far as the need for clothing and certain other supplies are concerned. The committee hopes to have a sufficient supply on hand so that all legitimate calls for help can be cared for at once.

Donations should be sent to the Iredale Storage, Central avenue, or call the social service office, Highland Park 4000, and arrangements will be made to call for them. Clothing will be sorted, cleaned, and mended, ready for use. The school are co-operating in this collection work.

Other Ways to Help

Organizations asking for families to care for:

- Ravinia Club is caring for 3 families.
- Ravinia Garden Club care for 1 family.
- American Legion Auxiliary, all war veterans' families.
- Some individuals have sent checks for Emergency Relief Fund.
- One individual has donated a quart of milk a day to a needy infant.
- One individual is sending a roast a week to a needy family.
- One business organization calls the Social Service office every morning to care for any emergency need, and makes its own investigation.

Among those registered the following kinds of work are wanted:

- Plain sewing and mending, handy man—odd jobs and painting, housework, practical nursing, typing by the hour, janitor work, furnace tending, gardening, caring for children, laundering, watchman, preparing and serving meals.

The committee requests that people employing workers on hourly basis arrange for at least two hours' work.

If possible, need for workers should be listed the preceding day in order to allow time to notify them.

The Central avenue office of the social service committee is open five days a week from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.; Saturdays, a shorter day. Call Highland Park 4000 when you need work done.
