

SHOW DOLL HOUSES AT AUDUBON STORE

Attractive for Christmas Gifts;
Bird Houses, Feeding Shelves
Also Offered

In addition to the bird-houses and feeding shelves offered for sale at the Audubon store, at 370 E. Central avenue, Mr. Hill is showing this week some very attractive doll houses for the Christmas trade. One type of doll-house was placed in the window today, for which orders may be entered. The management hopes soon to have a much less expensive type of house, one that can be furnished with the tiny furniture purchased from the Woolworth and Kresge stores in Chicago. A model of this type will be on exhibition in the window very shortly. Watch the window of the Audubon store and take note of the doll-houses which will be priced to suit everybody's Christmas budget. In buying a doll-house, it is not necessary to furnish it complete at the outset. In fact, a little girl

Old Saint Nick promises to be there and will have a gift for every child whose name is sent in. The members are asked to co-operate so that the list may be completed as soon as possible. Last Sunday afternoon a large delegation from Highland Park attended the institution of a new lodge at Antioch. A class of 125 were initiated after which the newly elected officers were installed.

Judge Pierson, Past Supreme Dictator of the Supreme lodge gave a most interesting talk and was met with a most favorable applause from those present.

The Thanksgiving party and dance given last Tuesday evening at the Y.W.C.A. hall was largely attended and all reported a most enjoyable evening.

H. P. GROUP TO GIVE BENEFIT MOVIE-TEA

Local Board of N. W. Settlement
Sponsors "Liliom" Dec. 12
Teatro Del Lago

The Highland Park board of the Northwestern settlement will present "Liliom" at a benefit movie-tea to be given at the Teatro Del Lago on Friday afternoon, Dec. 12. Due to the generosity of Mr. Meyer who is giving the use of the theatre, and of Mrs. Clyde Eckhardt of Wilmette who is donating the film, every penny made will go directly to charity. Saks, Milgrim, the Alan Goodrich shop and others, have contributed attractive articles which will be drawn as prizes during the afternoon. This feature, in addition to the serving of tea makes this rather a unique event.

First Time Outside Loop

The feature picture, "Liliom" (first showing outside the loop) is a notable one. It is adapted from Franz Molnar's international stage masterpiece presented so successfully in New York by the Theatre guild. Charles Farrell, who has been voted the favorite of the movies, and who has created memorable characterizations in "7th Heaven," "Street Angel," and others, plays the part of Liliom, the debonnaire lover, dreamer, and ruffian with the possibilities of a saint. Rose Hobart, who recently scored a success on the stage in "Death Takes a Holiday," plays the feminine lead, and the rest of the cast includes H. B. Warner, Estelle Taylor, Lee Tracy and others well adapted to their various roles.

Brief Description

"Liliom" presents life "as seen with the naked eye." Beginning with a colorful episode in an amusement park, it soon changes to intense drama centering about the two prin-
