FRITZ LEIBER

Reproduction of a protrait of Fritz Leiber Chicago Civic Shakespeare society's leading man recently completed by Ernest S. Klempner, the man who took last spring the Municipal Art league prize for portraiture at the 34th annual artists of the Chicago vicinity show at the Art institute. The background of the artist I am enclosing. The portrait itself is being exhibited at Marshall Fields. Mr. Klempner's studio is in the Fine Arts building; his home in Highland Park; he has two daughters in high school. Harley L. Clarke, president of the Chicago Civic Shakespeare society lives in Wilmette. Dr. Walter Dill Scott, president of Northwestern university, is one of the trustees. Dr.

Arthur C. L. Brown, of the English department, Northwestern university, spoke for the society over our Shakespeare radio broadcast, WMAQ., two weeks ago and Garrett H. Leaverton, head of the dramatic department, school of speech, Northwestern university, will speak next Monday evening, Dec. 1.

Thomas Bolger, Democratic representative elect from this district, returned late last week to McHenry following a hunting trip in Louisiana as the guest of Congressman Frank Reid and was also, for a time, guest of Governor Huey Long of that state.

An Ace of Cold Weather Weapons Against Fire

The Fyr-Fyter line of anti-freeze extinguishers is the most complete of any on the market today. In the Instant we have an extinguisher which not only combines the important features of the Soda-Acid, Foam and Pump Tank, but it emits a stream at a temperature of 40 degrees below zero, which shows no perceptible difference as at 70 degrees above, and it is exclusively a Fyr-Fyter product. It is ideal for storage warehouses, factories, farms, estates, grain elevators, etc., and is built in three sizes, 1 gallon, 1 1/2 gallon and 20 gallon Engines.

Motoring Protection in Zero Weather

Cold motors will delay thousands of motorists this coming winter. In the morning, after business hours, and after the theatres, thousands of car owners will be seriously inconvenienced.

You can feel perfect security, however, when you protect yourself by means of membership in the Chicago Motor Club.

Free mechanical first aid is one of the services to which you are entitled. One hundred thousand motorists have secured this protection.

You may call if for any reason you cannot operate your car, for example: If you are out of gas, if your battery is dead, if your starter is stuck, or if your car is disabled and must be towed. 86% of the trouble cases are remedied by mechanics on the spot; the remainder are tow jobs.

Other benefits of membership are: insurance, bail bond, touring, home district and accident prevention services.
