NEW SCOUTS ARE WELCOMED

With re-registration come the many new boys in the ranks of scouting. Following is a list for the past week. The council welcomes these new scouts and urge them on up the ladder of scouting toward the Eagle badge.

Troop 10, Wilmette: Edgar Goetz, Henry Schwall; Troop 11, Wilmette: Ted Harvey; Troop 17, Winnetka: Franklin Murdock, Robert Nickels, Wm. Smith, Philip Starr; Troop 18, Winnetka: H. Ballenger, Jack Easterberg, Stanley Jones, Maynard Kindt, Richard Weil, Kenneth Weld; Troop 23, Glencoe: Geo. Murray; Troop 33, Highland Park; James Anderson; Troop 35, Ravinia: Hulburd Wampler, John Epstein, Alden Harris, James Hirsch, Geo. Ross, Lew Saratt, Robert Walker, and Robert Zahn; Troop 46, Lake Forest: Carroll Heikens.

TWO MORE TROOPS ARE REGISTERED

Troop 31 of Elm Place school, Highland Park, and Troop 36, St. James church, Highwood, have both completed their re-registration for 1931, and have subscribed 100 per cent to the Boys Life Magazine. So far all troops re-registering, have held the 100 per cent record.

Troop 31 has Mr. Wendall A. Hill as scoutmaster, with 20 boys. Mr. Harry G. Langford is chairman of Troop committee with a committee of Messrs. Louis C. Schultz, Bryon C. Howes, Leo M. Steele, and Geo. W. Kellner.

Troop 36 has Mr. Mike O'Flaherty as scoutmaster and Louis Young as assistant scoutmaster, with 16 boys. Mr. P. M. Prato is chairman of Troop committee with Paul Muzik, Guy Viti and Father Holley assisting.

TROOP 44 MEETS IN BEACH KITCHEN

The Arden Shore Troop 44 looked more like a crowd of K. P.'s than a regulation scout troop when we met them down on the beach last Saturday afternoon to pass second class, first class and merit badge cooking tests. The second class scouts dotted the beach with stone lined fire-holes where potatoes were baked, and kabob, pieces of steak and onion alternating on a green branch of sweet wood, was broiled. The first

Scout Executive's Column

There were three boys in the — family, Ned, Cooper, and Tom. When I first knew them, Ned and Cooper, Eagle scouts, were going to high school and earning over $75 a month on their paper route.

Their father, a railway mail service employee passed away unexpectedly five years ago. The next summer Ned was serving as my assistant camp quartermaster. There came a long distance phone call, "Come home, Cooper downed." Cooper was an expert Red Cross life saver. On the way to the train Ned said, "Well I know Cooper was trying to save someone else," which was just as it proved to be.

Ned paid us a visit last winter. He is now advertising manager for a large concern in a western town, making a home for his mother, and putting Tom, now an Eagle scout, through high school. He is also serving three or four nights a week as a volunteer in scouting, helping weak troops on their feet again.

I am keeping in close touch with Ned. He is considering later on coming into scouting on a full time basis and making it his life work.

class group was a bit more dignified and made much better fire places and fried the best bacon and eggs we ever tasted. Wolff, Meyers, Rosenthal, Yeko and Sipler passed this test. The merit badge requirements for cooking were completed by Cornelius Johnson and Walter Zawoski, first class scouts.

After the tests and feast, we cleaned up the beach and ended the day with a game which we call "Rushing the Big Chiefs." The scoutmaster and assistant scoutmaster stand the rest of the troop who try to down them or force them into the lake. Mr. Booker, our S. M., and Mr. Czech (Double Check, we call him) had a hard battle with us, but it ended a draw, though Scout Conporst woefully held his face and insisted that he was worsted.

Troop 44 Meets in Kitchen

The meeting was called on account of darkness, and after a rather noisy closing ceremony we left our beach kitchen for camp.—George Meyers, Troop 44, Arden Shore.

LAKE FOREST SEA SCOUTS PLAN

With 14 present at the re-registration meeting held at the Young Men's club last Sunday afternoon, the future for the Lake Forest Sea Scout Ship looks bright.

The plans for the winter are that all boys will advance together in their tests. There will be different projects worked out, and delegations will be sent to the Byrd lecture, the Model Boat Show, and the shipyards. It is hoped the Lake Forest group will be rated as a second class ship by the end of the summer.

A great deal of interest and enthusiasm was shown at the beginning of last summer when the ship was organized. There were afternoon sailing trips twice a week, besides all day and over night cruises.

Sailing was not only done aboard the North Shore Sea Scout Ship, "Albatros," but also aboard Uncle Sam's Navy cutter. Foreseeing a wonderful summer ahead of fun, sport, and adventure aboard the "Albatros" and Navy cutter, and probably a two weeks cruise aboard the 165 foot Regional Schooner "Pinta," the boys are working hard on their tests.—Arthur Gourley, Reporter.

TROOP 45 HAS MEETING NOV. 28

Only a few boys were absent at the scout meeting of Troop 45, Episcopal church, Friday, Nov. 28. The meeting opened with the Flag ceremony. There was not much else, because the time was spent in registering the scouts for the year 1931. Almost all the boys subscribed for "Boys Life" magazine.

Because of the few absences, registration was not complete. We have about 29 fellows in the troop.

Scout Charles Requa almost completed his second class tests by passing signalling using semaphore; he also boxed the compass.

Mr. Bax with the help of Tom Atteridge and some of the scouts completed making the target for target practice which the advanced scouts will use to pass the Marksmanship Merit badge.—Bob Tibbets, Troop 45, Lake Forest.

LAKE FOREST REVIEW BOARD

Lake Forest held its monthly board of review last Wednesday, Nov. 26. Mr. Gilbert Porter III, Mr. Knight Cowels, Lake Forest Court of Honor chairman, and Mr. Bax were the reviewers. The results of tests are as follows: Troop 44, Arden Shore: George Meyers—wood work and basketry; Tony Johnson, Woodwork basketry, woodwork, book binding, and carpentry; Cornelius Johnson, handicraft, firemanship, and carpentry. Troop 45: Allen Hokenson, scholarship; Ian McPherson, scholarship; Teddy Monahan, tenderfoot. Troop 48: Ian Falconer, Ernest Gilroy, and Robert Milton, tenderfoot.—Waino Newman, district editor.

For our last troop meeting we went to the "Cabin in the Woods" over night. After we arrived, we cooked supper and made our bunks.

Later in the evening we initiated a tenderfoot scout by sending him out "Snipe Hunting." Unfortunately he did not catch any snipe after his long wait in the woods. After this we went to bed. In the morning we cooked breakfast, cleaned up the cabin and went home.

Our next meeting is Friday, Dec. 5, at 7 o'clock.—Scout Tom Roberts, Troop 46.

FATHER AND SONS WIN HIGH HONORS

Mr. H. F. Kelly, chairman of Highland Park Court of Honor reports a large increase of tests passed at the Nov. 25 board of review held in the new city hall. The outstanding achievement of the evening was Scoutmaster H. R. Smith with his two sons, Roderic and Denton all receiving their silver palm signifying that they each have 15 merit badges in addition to 21 required for Eagle scouts.

Following is the complete list: Troop 33—Tenderfoot: James Anderson, and James Carnett; Star scout, Carl C. Huncke; Silver Palms, Scoutmaster Herbert R. Smith, Roderic Smith, Denton Smith; Merit badges, Robert Anderson, firemanship; Robert Austin, firemanship, firemanship; Lawrence Briggs, personal health; George McLellan, firemanship; Henry Richardson, personal health; Denton Smith, farm mechanics; Scoutmaster H. R. Smith, farm mechanics, firemanship; Kerwyn Smith, farm mechanics, firemanship; Roderic Smith, farm mechanics. Troop 34—Second class, Robert Geary; veteran scout, Assistant Scoutmaster Ralph W. Pratt. Troop 35—Tenderfoot: Stephen Buhner, Dade Epstein, John Epstein, James Hirsch, Robert Logg, George Ross, Lew Sarett, Robert Walker, Hulburd Wampler, Robert Zahn. Second class: Arthur Baldauf; first class: Charles Zahn.

LEADERS GIVEN CAMP CERTIFICATES

During the last few years 41 volunteer leaders in the North Shore Area council have spent at least two weeks in a summer scout camp with the boys of their troop. Most of this camping was done at Camp Makajawan in the summers of 1929 and 1930. The council congratulates these men for their fine contribution to boyhood and announce the award by National council of a certificate of camping to be awarded soon.

Several others have spent one week in camp and deserve commendation for that. They are Lincoln C. Torrey, W. A. Hill, A. D. Brush, and Geo. Gadzik.

The following leaders are to be awarded the camping certificate for spending at least two weeks in camp: 1927—Checaugau, Ray Fogg; 1928—Checaugau, Frank J. Kreusch; 1924—Myron C. Rybolt; 1926, Carl McManus; 1926; H. G. Baltz; 1929—Robert J. Wilkins, John Betak, James Muench, Morgan Muench, Earl D. King, Jr., Colonel Louis Waefeaer, Lloyd Wightman, John C. Blaylock, John Hu'n, James R. Goetz, Rev. Mark J. Andrews, Hobart W. Swan, Medill Radloff, Russell W. Towner; 1930—Raymond Danielson, Geo. Stickrath, Frank A. Wilson, Harrison Storr, Wm. L. Melcher, Dr. Sloan F. Hedgcock, Fred S. Channer, John L. Udell, J. W. Bird, Louis Young, Lloyd Moon, Tom Atteridge, Robert Roeber, Calvin Gurtley, Frank M. Harms.
