Electric Parking

offers a New Convenience for Loop Shoppers

"Electric parking in the new Quincy Garage, or in the Harrison Garage, saves us time, steps, and clothes," say hundreds of women shoppers.

"We drive into the wide entrance, lock our cars, and leave them. Electricity parks them for us, untouched by human hands. There is no possibility of dirt or grease being left on seats, levers, or wheel.

"The shopping district begins just around the corner. We have our parcels delivered at the garage where an attendant signs for them and puts them in the car when we leave."

Besides these popular features, each Garage offers the conveniences of a fine hotel. Rest rooms, writing rooms, telephones, check rooms—are provided for our patrons.

Official Report Says Chindblom Is Elected; Other Results Given

Rep. Carl R. Chindblom was re-elected to represent the tenth congressional district in the house of representatives over his Democratic opponent, John E. Hesse, according to the official Nov. 4 election figures released by the state election board at Springfield last week.

Complete figures on the race were not given, but Rep. Chindblom is already in Washington carrying on his work in the present congress and will be certified by the state as being re-elected.

The board's figures show that Sen. James Hamilton Lewis had a total of 1,438,216 votes as against 687,747 over his nearest rival.

The report also shows that Margaret Robinson Hopkins of Lake Forest, a Democrat, was elected to fill a vacancy on the board of trustees of the University of Illinois over Mrs. Margaret Day Blake of Chicago.

Women May Soon Be Serving on Juries

Women may be serving as jurors in the circuit and county courts before Christmas it was indicated today when Attorney General Oscar Carlstrom ruled that the venire lists could be revised immediately to include women.

The attorney general, who was requested by States Attorney Hjalmer Rehn, of Joliet, to give an opinion stated that the law would become effective as soon as the canvass of the vote is completed.

Some conflict with the present system will be found if the change is made necessary now, according to County Clerk Lew. A. Hendee, who stated that venires had been prepared on the even year, or every two years. The next list, under this system, would not be made up until 1922.

North Shore Municipal League in Meeting at Highland Park Dec. 5

Collection of data on operating costs and gas rate scales of the North Shore Gas company in this section will be started at once by a committee headed by Frederick Dickinson, Winnetka, preparatory to presenting the case before the Illinois Commerce Commission, it was decided last Friday night at a meeting of the North Shore Municipalities association in Highland Park.

Fifteen communities in the north shore area were represented at the organization meeting of the new association.

A preliminary report of the situation, presented by a committee of five appointed several weeks ago was read and accepted by the association.

Although much of the work of actual organization of the new association will be left in the hands of individual city councils of the group, active work on the proposed gas cut will go forward under Dickinson's committee.

It was reported at the meeting that the gas question can be reinstated with the Commerce Commission, the same problem having appeared for hearing before that group in 1922. At that time no action was taken by the commission and neither the gas company or shore-line communities has taken further action.

The immediate purpose of the present group is to carry through the gas rate problem, although it is felt that such an organization will prove valuable in the future on other occasions when problems of common interest arise.

The police radio net idea will again come before officials of shoreline cities on Thursday, Dec. 11, when all members of the association meet in Zion.

Another question of prime importance, that of refunding a portion of the state gasoline tax to municipalities in which it is collected, was brought before the association at this meeting.
