Highland Park Methodist Church
North avenue at Lauretta place Frank Davidson Hopkins, minister A god sized congregation gathered in the newly decorated church last Sunday morning and many were the expressions of pleasure over the appearance of the interior in its fresh colors. Walls and ceilings, pews, chairs, woodwork and pulpit have all been freshly gone over on the main floor. The chancel arrangement was also a subject of approving comment, with the golden cross dominating all as it should and the new communion table, the new pulpit, the Fellowship cup adding dignified notes of symbolism which has greatly added to the churchly appearance of the room and also emphasizing the note of worship.
The adjoining league room is in the same color scheme, as is the vestibule.
Mr. Herman Juhrend, who did the work as a gift to the church, and his loyal helpers from the young men's class and some of the adult members who gave valued assistance, all deserve the many commendations with which they were showered.

The church service included a beautiful solo by Mrs. Fred Okey and an appropriate duet of a Christmas hymn by Mrs. C. E. Gooseman and her sister, Miss Allene Smith. The pastor preached a seasonal sermon on the text, "No Room in the Inn."

Next Sunday will be New Year's Supnday, with a sermon appropriate to the day and with special music.
Come out this last Sunday of the old year and join with us in getting in tune with the great spiritual forces of God as a preparation fr the year that lies so closely ahead.

The Sunday school Christmas program was given Wednesday night of this week,—Christmas eve. A pageant of the Nativity was given, with other interesting numbers and a big feature was the "White Gifts" to our orphanage at Lake Bluff. This event always draws a capacity attendance.
