

"OLIVER TWIST" TO BE GIVEN ON FRIDAY

Second of Series of Children's Plays at Elm Place; Two More Coming

"Oliver Twist" will arrive in town Friday afternoon! The place is the Elm Place school auditorium, the time 2:30 p.m. He will come and bring with him all the people so long heard about: the sly Artful Dodger, cruel Bumble, notorious Fagin, villainous Bill Sikes, poor Nancy, and kind Mr. Brownlow. The Goodman theater actors will portray Oliver and his friends and enemies, and young as well as old have a treat in store.

Second of Series

This is the second in the series of four plays for children being given under the auspices of the literature committee of the Highland Park Woman's club. The next performance, (following Oliver) will be of A. A. Milne's "Make-Believe," on Saturday, Feb. 7. The Evanston Children's theater will present this play as well as the production on March 21 of "The Princess and the Vagabond," a

(Continued on page 32)

Miss Hendee Returns from Holiday Trip

Miss Cora Hendee, librarian of the Highland Park Public library returned this morning from her home in Hornell, New York, where she spent the holidays with her parents. Monday was spent in Cleveland looking over the famous Cleveland library and its branches, for suggestions of equipment for our new library building.

Flooring, curtains, exhibit cases, etc. were a few of the items investigated. Her enthusiasm for the possibilities offered by the new library building with its greater seating capacity for young and old, its small auditorium, and great still, the possibilities of displaying and making more accessible the books now contained in the library, should help to place the library within its proper usefulness to the community.

Ft. Sheridan Choir in New Year's Program

The Ft. Sheridan choir will render the following program at the Post chapel on New Year's morning at nine o'clock.

A large crowd attended the services Christmas eve at the midnight service and many of the people have asked for a repetition of the program which is to be given.

- SOLEMN HIGH MASS
- New Year's Day at 9 a.m.
- Hark the Herald Angels Sing.....Mendelssohn
- Choir and Orchestra
- Kyrie Eleison..... Leonard
- Choir and Orchestra
- Gloria in Excelsis..... Paoletti
- Choir and Orchestra
- Sermon..... Rev. A. V. Simoni
- Credo..... Paoletti
- Choir and Orchestra
- Offertory—Ave Maria..... Del Riego
- Katherine Kenry
- Mildred Studeny, accompanist
- Sanctus-Benedictus..... Leonard
- Choir and Orchestra
- Communion—Panis Angelicus..... Frank
- Pietro Marchi
- Alice Curley, accompanist
- Agnus Dei..... Leonard
- Choir and Orchestra
- Recessional—Adeste Fideles..... Traditional
- Pietro Marchi and Choir

50th Anniversary

MRS. JOHN H. BRADLEY

JOHN H. BRADLEY

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Bradley, native residents of Lake Forest and descended from pioneers of this section of Lake county on Monday celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary at their home in Lake Forest, where they have lived since 1915, when they moved to town from the old Bradley homestead on Bradley road, west of Lake Forest.

In celebration of the anniversary a family dinner was given Saturday evening at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Roy S. Wells, Lake Forest, at which all of the children and grandchildren were guests. The children are Mrs. George J. Fitzgerald, Mrs. Roy S. Wells and John J. Bradley, and the grandchildren are Rosalie Fitzgerald, Helen Wells and Francis Bradley Fitzgerald, the latter a student at St. Mary's of the Lake seminary.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Bradley in Highland Park and vicinity extend congratulations.

LECTURE ON ANGKOR, WOMAN'S CLUB JAN. 6

Lucille Douglas, Noted Artist to Tell of Glories of Ancient People

Like a comet the civilization of the Khmers flashed across the firmament of the far East with a brilliancy that lasted for centuries. By the end of the sixth century A. D., their splendor was so great that they were the envy and admiration of all Asia. Life in Angkor was a dazzling pageant of color. Magnificent edifices were erected, whose beauty was famed far and wide.

At last, enervated by luxury and excess, the Khmers were easily conquered by the more sturdy Siamese; the race was exterminated, and the buildings fell into ruins. Soon, even the memory of this once powerful people vanished from the earth, and it was not until 1858 that a French scientist, working in the Cambodian Jungle, came upon the ruins of this former glorious civilization.

The French government sent an expedition to unearth the architectural remains of the Khmer occupation, and the eastern and western world now stands amazed and thrilled by the beauty and magnificence of these buildings.

Miss Lucille Douglass, an artist of recognized ability, drawn to Angkor by her desire to paint some of the beautiful things she had heard were being unearthed and restored, went there, and remained there for three years, working with the government archeologists, painting, studying the history and customs of this vanished people, and imbued her spirit with the spirit of this race in its period of glory.

With her great knowledge of this civilization, her charm of manner, her word pictures, her beautiful photographs, Miss Douglass is able to breathe life again into these age-old temples and the city of Angkor, as they existed in the early part of the present era.

At Woman's Club

Miss Douglas will present this program before the Highland Park Woman's club, Tuesday, Jan. 6 at 2:30 p.m.

Mrs. McAlear, Former Resident Passes Away

Mrs. Mary Nevins McAlear, wife of James McAlear, president of the McAlear manufacturing Co., of Chicago, passed away on Christmas morning at her home 1263 Pratt Blvd., Chicago after a few hours illness.

Mrs. McAlear was the oldest daughter of Edward Nevins, one of Highland Park's oldest citizens, who still resides at 499 Elm Place.

She leaves to survive her, her husband, James McAlear, her father Edward Nevins, three sisters, Mrs. J. P. Naumes of Medford, Oregon, Mrs. John McDonnell of Evanston, Mrs. A. R. Williams of Normal and two brothers W. P. Nevins of Chicago and Edward A. Nevins of this city.

The funeral was held from the residence Saturday morning Dec. 27 at 9:30 a.m. to St. Ignatius church. The body was placed in a vault at Rosehill cemetery, temporarily.

Sales
A
U
B
U
R
N
and
C
O
R
D
Service

We also have some exceptional used car value.

Highland Park Auburn Company
505 Elm Place
Highland Park, Illinois
Phone H. P. 2830