Lyons Favors Police Radio Communication for the Entire State

Communicating system, including radio on a short wave length and possibly the teletype, will be asked for the entire state by Representative Richard J. Lyons, of Mundelein, when he goes to the assembly Jan. 7.

The representative is not certain whether it will take a new bill or funds out of the state and is having officials investigate before he presents his proposition.

Mr. Lyons intends to have the entire state divided into zones so that information can be filed with all peace officers, including state, county and municipal, within a few minutes after a crime is committed. It would be transmitted through a short wave radio station to specially constructed sets typical of the ones now used by the Chicago police, and the teletype as well.

Masked Bandit Holds Up Man at Half Day

A masked bandit, who left his car with the motor running in front of the J. Clarke place at Half Day, Friday morning, held up Clarke and took his clothing and a bank book issued from the First National bank, of Waukegan.

Clarke, who lives with Joseph Dawson, was alone at the time the man entered the house. It was about 10 o'clock in the morning.

The bank was notified not to issue any money on the pass book by the sheriff's office shortly after the robbery.

Clarke obtained a fair view of the man and the description was given deputy sheriffs who started the search for the lone criminal.
