

Organize Camp Fire Group at Ridge School

Recently the girls 10 years old and over, of Ridge school formed a Camp-fire group, which they call Lakadonah.

At our first meeting we chose Mrs. Teberg as our guardian; Mrs. Ringer, assistant guardian; Carol Bennett, president; Betty Willson, vice president; Virginia Wieder, secretary; Rosemary Holm, treasurer; Aileen Krumbach, scribe and Jane Griffith, song leader.

The day before Christmas we took a basket to a needy family.

Last Wednesday, being the first Wednesday in the month, was social week and Carol Bennett was the hostess. Everyone came in costume, representing a holiday. We were met at the door by Mr. Old Year, who looked somewhat like Carol Bennett.

Delicious refreshments of muffins and cocoa were made and served by Rosemary Holm and Dorothy Teberg and Mrs. Bennett added cookies to our feast. We learned how to make the cocoa and muffins at a previous cooking lesson which was conducted by Mrs. Teberg.

Our next meeting will be a business meeting, when we will pass our membership tests.

Aileen Krumbach, scribe.

Lake County Third in Sales of New Autos in State During Past Year

Lake county ranked third in new car sales in Illinois counties, during 1930, being exceeded only by Cook and Peoria counties.

The total number of new cars sold in Lake county last year amounted to 3,533. Cook county led, accounting for 77,985 of the state's total of 163,459.

Six counties, Cook, Kane, Peoria, Lake, St. Clair and Madison had over 3,000 sales, while eight, Sangamon, Rock Island, Winnebago, Du Page, Will, LaSalle, Macon and McLean, passed the 2,000 car mark.

In contrast to the 1930 figures, statisticians of the state chamber of commerce recall the year of 1929 with a total of 74,908 more sales.

Figures for the remainder of the 15 leading counties are as follows: St. Clair, 3,133; Madison, 2,010; Sangamon, 2,969; Rock Island, 2,912; Winnebago, 2,808; Du Page, 2,767; Will, LaSalle, Macon and McLean, 2,150; McLean, 2,134, and Champaign, 1,996.

CHICAGO INVITES STATES TO FAIR

Invitations to Participate in Century of Progress Exposition Issued

Chicago's invitation to the States of the Union to participate in a Century of Progress, 1933, is now before the Legislatures, most of which are in session. Favorable state action is expected by the Fair Management, as several states have already unofficially indicated a desire to exhibit.

Letters of invitation, signed by Rufus C. Dawes, president of the Fair, were sent to governors of the 48 states and eight territories with a booklet, outlining the purposes and objectives of the exposition. The extent of state participation is clearly outlined.

"A cordial invitation, says the letter, 'is extended to each state to participate in the exposition. And to present not only the resources of each state and their present development but the possibilities of further progress opening. Through the increasing application of scientific principles to industrial and social problems.'"

Subject of Exposition

"The subject of the exposition," the invitation states, "is the progress which has been achieved by mankind within the century by the use of science."

A single states building, possibly surrounding a central unit, occupied by the Federal Government will take the place in 1933 of the many individual state buildings of other world's fairs.

This, it is indicated, will enable each state to devote a greater part of its appropriation to its particular contributions to contemporary civilization rather than putting up temporary structures.

States having a common geographical, historical or economic association, such as New England, the southeast, the southwest, the middle-west, the Rocky Mountain states, and Pacific Coast states may combine their exhibits to send a co-ordinated picture of sectional significance. The various states are invited to make some demonstration of their method of education, their treatment of criminology, their efforts toward better housing conditions, the care of dependents, particularly the children, the improvement of roads and waterways, marketing, and the steps taken toward the conservation of natural resources.

Exhibits by States

Exhibits by state experiment stations, agricultural colleges and similar agencies, co-operating with the United States Department of Agriculture, demonstrates the attention paid by the Federal and State Governments to agricultural needs.

Industrial states would demonstrate their industrial development and advantages. Other states will show the recreational, scenic and outdoor sports, domestic or other appeal. How public tax funds are distributed may be the subject of other state exhibits.
