WALLACE BEERY and MARIE DRESSLER in "MIN AND BILL"

Wallace Beery, a convict in his great hit, "The Big House," becomes a good-natured fishing barge captain in his newest role in "Min and Bill," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's vivid waterfront drama. Marie Dressler plays the other principal role, and Dorothy Jordan, Marjorie Rambeau and others of note are in the cast.

Ace Stunt Fliers Provide Thrills

A squadron of the trickiest air-planes on the Pacific coast was assembled for the filming of "Going Wild."

"Going Wild" features a strictly modern race between two fast and tricky planes, and all of the planes around the field and in the air are of the latest type. The plot concerns Brown, who is mistaken for a famous authority on aviation. Many of Hollywood's foremost stunt fliers, including Frank Clarke, ace trickster of the air, were employed in making "Going Wild."

"Min and Bill" Is Current Attraction at Alcyon Theatre

Two of the screen's greatest personalities, Marie Dressler and Wallace Beery, are co-stared for the first time, in the intensely human, dramatic and fascinating picture "Min and Bill," at the Alcyon today and Friday, which is the only showing of this marvelous film, on the North Shore.

"Going Wild," brings back Joe E. Brown, as an aviator, in a picture filled with laughs and thrills. Scheduled as a special attraction for the popular Saturday bargain matinee is Rin-Tin-Tin in "Rough Waters."

Stranded in England, two young Americans are forced to accept jobs in the mansion of visiting millionaire. But luck is with them and you'll see what happens in "Along Came Youth," a refreshing, amusing picture starring Charles Rogers with Stuart Erwin and Frances Dee. "Along Came Youth" is Sunday's feature.

Joan Crawford gives the finest performance of her career in "Paid," a powerful drama based on Bayard Veiller's "Within the Law," to be shown next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Thursday and Friday of next week, the kings of the air, Amos 'n' Andy, will be seen in their first talking picture "Check and Double Check."

Revise Webster to Suit Tastes

Amos 'n' Andy's revision of the dictionary contains words Mr. Webster never dreamed of. Here are a number of their phrases from "Check and Double Check," the team's first motion picture. How many more do you know?

I've regusted.
What's the propolition?
Fresh Air Taxicab Company of America, Incorporated.
Awa, awa, awa!
Ol' ducky wucky!
Rescue me.
As I sees de sichiation—
Heah come de Kingfish!
Check and double check!
Dis is a disregrace to de president!
I repologizes—
I feels rebarassed!

Joan Crawford in Finest Dramatic Role in "Paid"

Too much cannot be said for Joan Crawford's brilliant portrayal in "Paid." As Mary Turner, the shop girl who is sent to prison although innocent, and subsequently becomes the leader of a suave crook gang, Miss Crawford offers a surprise to moviegoers who have seen her only in flapper characterizations. The vehicle, adapted from the stage success, "Within the Law," is an admirable story for Miss Crawford's debut as a straight dramatic actress.
