Alcyon Theatre to Present Attractive Program Next Week

Robert Woolsey, comedian, is funnier than ever in "Hook, Line and Sinker," co-featured with Bert Wheeler, which is being shown today and tomorrow at the Alcyon theatre.

The Southern Pacific roundhouse in Los Angeles was used for numerous night scenes in "Other Men's Women," which is presented Saturday.

"The Bachelor Father," which will be here Sunday and Monday is Marion Davies' third talking picture, her first two having been "Marianne" and "The Flordora Girl."

"Illicit," the startling comedy-drama of modern love and matrimony being presented Tuesday and Wednesday was heartily acclaimed by the large audience as one of the most consistently entertaining pictures of the year.

"Morocco" is a story of a turbulent, fierce, all-consuming love; of a man and a woman swept into a maelstrom of emotions which neither of them desires and neither can resist. This picture is scheduled for Thursday and Friday.

Other Men's Women Is Railroad Romance

"Other Men's Women," the Warner Bros. production is a tremendous story of love, sacrifice and devotion.

Its background is a smoke-shrouded region of thundering trains, crumbling bridges and swirling waters, not to forget the rose-covered cottage where Jack, the engineer lives happily with Lily, his pretty wife. Devoted to each other, they share affection for Bill, the fireman.

It is when the liking between Lily and Bill turns into love that the pastoral scene changes to one of dark complexity. Bill leaves the home and the engineer begins to mistrust him. Accusations of the husband as he and Bill start on a long run together, results in Jack being hurled from the wrecked train and blinded.

Then follows the retribution of the fireman, who had been drawn into the affair inadvertently, and as guiltless as the wife whose days are now devoted to her afflicted husband. It is the most thrilling melodrama of the road ever filmed.

Arabian Named Technical Moving Picture Director

Jamiel Hasson, native Arabian and former resident of northern Africa, acted as one of Director Josef von Sternberg's technical advisors during the filming of Paramount's thrilling drama of life in the French Foreign Legion, "Morocco," in which Gary Cooper, Marlene Dietrich and Adolphe Menjou are featured. Hasson is the son of a wealthy landowner of Damascus.
