GIRL SCOUT DISPLAY IN GARNETT'S WINDOW

Have you seen the display of Girl Scout equipment in the Central avenue window of the J. B. Garnett Co.? If you have not already seen it; it will pay you to go up town just to see and admire it. Any Girl Scout may now get equipment at this store by showing her registration card. Badges will still be purchased only by the captains.

BROWNIE TRAINING COURSE

It is a most important privilege to study and play under the National Great Brown Owl. Miss Williamson starts her group on Monday, March 9th, for five successive days, 10-12 a.m. at St. James parish house, 666 Rush st., and 7-9 p.m. at Girl Scout headquarters. This is our great chance to learn to know the Brownie who will be the oncoming Girl Scout.

GIRL SCOUT DAY AT THE FLOWER SHOW
This year the fifth annual Flower Show will be given at the Merchandise Mart, from Mar. 21 to 27, inclusive, and from 10 a.m. to 11 p.m. daily. The Garden Club has given a booth to the Girl Scouts, and we are going to have a camp background for native lore activities. Also we have the privilege of calling Friday, March 27, Girl Scout Day.

FINAL TRAINING COURSES

Nature—There has been an often-repeated request for this, so one will start on Tuesday, March 17, at 7 o'clock at Chicago headquarters. The first meeting will consist of general nature games and the following five will divide into projects desired, though always including general nature:
General Troop Management—At Chicago headquarters beginning Thursday evening, March 19, from 7:15 to 9:15 for eight successive weeks.

HEAR GIRL SCOUT TRAINER

Last Friday afternoon some of the Community Committee and captains met at the home of Mrs. W. H. Stockwell to hear Miss Ethel Swan give a talk and demonstration of games and songs learned at the course given by Miss Joyce Wolton, Girl Scout Trainer, a week ago in Chicago. A most profitable and enjoyable time was had and many new ideas were presented by Miss Swan as well as games and songs which the captains will find most helpful in their Troop meetings.

TROOP III

After "Color Guards" Mrs. Selfridge suggested we have a bakery sale for the benefit of our treasury. We all agreed and more definite plans are being made.
At patrol corners each patrol was asked is near at hand. All of us then came together to compare menus. One was agreed upon.

Those who were second class scouts went into another room for help in preparing their first class map making. The others played compass games conducted by Mrs. Selfridge. Some of the girls are working for health badges.

TROOP IV

On Thursday, Feb. 26, Barbara Heller was invested as a Tenderfoot Scout with Joan Wichman assisting. We now have 25 registered scouts.

Suzanne Coale and Joan Pier have passed their second class tests and are going to be invested soon.

The Evergreen Patrol reported on their visit to the fire station where they were questioned by Chief Hoskins on "What Should a Girl Scout Do in Case of Fire?" They were shown about the fire station and had a chance to slide down the pole.

Mrs. Holabird is going to show us how to make a hospital bed and some bandages.

We are filling a box with clothing for a family of ten in Chicago. Miss Goddard told us about them.

The Busy Bee and Rose Patrols won the rope contest last time.

Marjorie Haworth and Suzanne Coale had charge of the games. We played over-taking and automobile relays with them.

BROWNIE PACK

Twenty-one little girls met with Mrs. Stockwell last Thursday afternoon. After dividing into "sixes" and choosing a name for each "six" the whole Pack went for a short observation hike and then came back and wrote down all the different things they saw.

TROOP I

Last meeting was spent in playing games, having a knot-tying contest, and in learning new songs.

TROOP II

A Girl Scout meeting was held in the Elm Place Gym Monday, March 3, under the direction of Mrs. Alger and a lieutenant, Joanne Goodman. There were four girls passing the tenderfoot test; one of them was passed. There were about fifteen girls passing second class tests, none have yet finished. The girls had an informal discussion and talked about badges. They then played a game with a match box and ended the games with a running relay race. The girls then formed a circle and sang good-night songs. Mrs. Alger told them to try and pass their tests. The meeting closed with "Taps" at eight o'clock.
