IF EYES ARE CONCERNED

Precision in glasses is comparable to purity in drugs and medicine.

You would not buy drugs or medicines from an unskilled or an unvouched-for pharmacist whose only appeal is price!

Is it not therefore equally hazardous to buy from the unskilled, careless and oftentimes unscrupulous dealer in glasses?

You can no more be the judge of the one than of the other. Imperfect and inaccurate lenses, such as are rejected by us and destroyed, are oftentimes sold by others as "first" quality.

Precision made spectacles are not produced and sold at ridiculously low prices. And any other kind may be expensive at any price.

Almer Coe glasses are "precision made."
