younger girls will be in charge of the camp program. Mrs. McManus has been councilor in a Michigan camp two years, and, recently attended the camp conference at the Y. M. C. A. college in Chicago. There will be two nurses in camp, one a graduate nurse the other having had two years training in a recognized hospital. There will be a physical director from Chicago Normal School of Physical Education in charge of the swimming, organized play, water sports, boating and dancing. The director is a Senior Life Saver and an examiner. The girls who have been working on their tests at the high school pool this winter will have an opportunity to pass their junior test. The councilors who are ready to pass their Senior Life Saving may do so at this time. The children are divided into classes, beginners, floaters, swimmers and divers.

Miss Doris Brower, of the North Western University School of Speech will be in charge of the dramatics. Miss Brower, was highly recommended because of her ability and interest with the junior children. Dramatics will be one of the important parts of the camp program.

Boating

It is a real opportunity to be on a small lake where girls may be taught to row a boat. There will be several row boats, two periods a day are given to boating instructions. There need be no fear in the minds of the parents when the campers are on the lake as a life saver is in charge of each boat, the lake is shallow and the boats are kept near the shore.

Food: There will be a cook who will prepare the meals. Every precaution will be taken to provide the best. There will be large quantities of pasturized milk, butter and eggs. Well balanced menu will be planned and served the camper, including fresh vegetables and fruit.

Councillors

There will be a councillor in charge of each lodge who will live with the girls and act as her adviser. All ailments will be referred to the nurses in charge.

Motto: "I'll Be Glad To," the spirit soon gets into the heart and minds of the camper. When asked to do small duties they reply with "I'll Be Glad To," it is not only said but the spirit goes with it. The work of the camp is a cooperative adventure being divided and assigned the campers different days.

Highwood Auxiliary Conducts Poppy Sale

Millions of Americans will pay honor to the country's World war dead by wearing the little red poppy of Flanders fields. An army of women, estimated to be 100,000 strong, mobilized for the work by the American Legion and its auxiliary, will take the streets throughout the country with baskets of the memorial flowers. It is expected that poppies will be placed on approximately 10,000,000 coats and more than $1,000,000 received for the welfare of disabled veterans and their families.

The women of Stupey-Smith post of the auxiliary, aided by women of other local organizations, will provide the people of Highwood with their poppies. Preparations for the sale have been worked out in such detail that no one in the city will be without opportunity to buy and wear a poppy. A larger sale of poppies is expected in the city than ever before.

The poppies which the local unit of the auxiliary will offer were made by disabled veterans at Bloomington. They are exact replicas of the wild poppy of France and Belgium which grew on the World war battle fields. No set price will be asked for the flowers, each purchaser being allowed to contribute any amount he desires for his poppy.

The bulk of the money which the citizens of Highwood will pay for their poppies will remain here in the city and will be used for the relief of disabled veterans and needy families of veterans during the coming year. The poppy sale is the principal source of support for the continuous relief program which the Auxiliary unit is carrying out. As heavier demands are being made on the auxiliary this year than at any time in the past, the organization is hoping that more people than ever before will "Honor the dead and serve the living" by wearing a poppy tomorrow.

The radio may have replaced the cradle in many homes, but the results as far as neighbors are concerned are not different.
