NOTABLE CEREMONY AT LAKE FOREST LIBRARY

manship and how great was its value, not to the men alone who received such public recognition, but to the architect, the general contractor and the owner in turn, derived the benefit of skillful work, intelligently executed.

Architect Speaks

Mr. Edwin Clark, architect of the building, voiced his appreciation for the splendid workmanship and praised the recipients of this award for the intelligent interpretation of the architect's plans and the competent manner in which every man on the building had done his part.

Mr. Charles Haynes, speaking on behalf of the H. S. Friestedt Co., general contractors, thanked the men for making the task of building a fine monumental building such an easy one and a pleasant one. "Only through the whole hearted co-operation of every man on the job and the fine workmanship of the winners of the award as well as their fellow workers, could we have turned over to the owners such a beautifully constructed building — one which will serve for many years to come as a pattern of superior craftsmanship."

Mr. Alfred E. Hamil, speaking on behalf of the library board and for the donors of the building — Mrs. Scheppe and Mrs. Reed—thanked the workmen for their part and also the architect and general contractor for the fine conception and fine achievement which has given Lake Forest the most beautiful library building of its kind and size in the United States.

Awards Made

Awards of certificates and gold buttons were then made to the following mechanics, none of whom are Lake Forest residents: Alexander McEachern, N. Swanson, Gus Schmidt, Robert Carlson, John Allen, Bertil Westlund, John Magnuson, Lee Van Goses, Thos. Williams, Harold Dahl, Primo Stella, A. M. Durall, Daniel Boenke, L. Nantz, Frank-J. Allen, Chas. J. Murano.

In another column will be found a photograph of this very interesting ceremony. We greatly hope other buildings along the north shore will qualify for this award.

Legion Honors State Commander and Adjutant

The eighth district, American Legion, (Lake county) honored the state commander, Arthur "Jack" Poorman; and his adjutant, "Bill" Mundt, at a banquet in the Holy Family auditorium, North Chicago, last night.

Many prominent Legionnaires and civic officials attended the affair and gave brief addresses. "Jack" Poorman gave a stirring address on the principles and work of the American Legion, followed by an informative talk by "Bill" Mundt on the four cardinal points of Legion activities.
