Some 2,000 people attended the festival, crowding the terraces on the north campus overlooking a natural amphitheatre, long before the pageant began. The May festival always affords an opportunity for the return of many alumnae and the entertainment of visitors from all over the central west. The occasion is the outstanding social event of the pre-Commencement season at this, the oldest Woman's college in the west.

Arthur W. Jerrems Dies at His Home Saturday; Rites Held on Monday

Arthur Wallace Jerrems, chairman of the board of Jerrems, Inc., merchant tailors, died Saturday in his home at 657 Vine avenue, Highland Park. He suffered a heart attack after a game of golf at the Exmoor Country club two weeks ago and had been ailing since. He was in his 59th year.

Mr. Jerrems was born in Australia and came to Chicago as a child. At an early age he entered the tailoring business which has been established by his grandfather in 1869. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mary Jerrems, and a son, Arthur W. Jerrems Jr.

Mr. Jerrems was a member of the Chicago Athletic, University, and Exmoor Country club. Funeral services were held Monday at 2 p. m. in the chapel at Oakwoods cemetery, Chicago.

the Rockford college campus, Saturday. The height of interest in this occasion always centers around the person of the May Queen, who is elected by the student body from the senior class, but whose identity is unknown until she appears in the procession.

Miss Carr won this honor by a large majority of the student votes and was escorted by the other four senior girls, who were eligible for the honor, Miss Ruth Olson of Kenilworth; Ruth Fetzer of Rockford; Mary Holton of Battle Creek and Florence Lovejoy of Roscoe, Illinois. One interesting custom is that the Queen of the former year returns at each festival to place the crown of violets upon the new Queen's brow. This honor was performed by Miss Elizabeth Townsend of Stoughton, Wisconsin, the May Queen of 1930, following which the dance drama of Homer's Odyssey was given in full regalia in honor of the new Queen, thus making the festival this year perhaps the most picturesque in the 37 years of its history.

In a remarkable way Miss Carr fulfills the ideal qualifications for the May Queen of her Alma Mater. These requirements are that she must be a good student, enthusiastic, helpful, co-operative, dignified, gracious and kind. Miss Carr's four year record at Rockford college has been quite equal to these qualifications and she has had a most constructive influence in student affairs. She was secretary of her freshman class; president of her junior class and president of the college government board in her senior year. She has had membership and offices in practically every organization in the college and

ANNUAL REPORT OF LIBRARIAN ISSUED

Review of Activities of Year
Given; Support Is Appreciated;
New Building

Following is the annual report of Miss Cora Hendee, librarian of the Highland Park public library for the year ending April 30, 1931, to the trustees of the library:

The Report

No library report of the Highland Park public library for the past year could be complete without mention of the rousing effect afforded in the prospect of a new and commodious building. To the patrons of the library as well as the staff this pleasure has been evident since the beginning of the building on August 18, 1930.

The attendant inconveniences of noise and crowded seating capacity necessary have been generetaoishr which a temporary location made lowed for by the patrons of the library, and we await with interest the opportunities which such a building offers to the city for more complete library service.

Libraries, like other institutions, can either just grow, or they can progress steadily toward a definite goal along roads that have been carefully surveyed in advance by those who have their destinies in charge.

Several features of library service to be studied in relation to the growth of Highland Park and its library
